

China's Great Wall

Why Sheep Give Thanks
Tests for a Pacifist

By Arthur Brisbane

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27.—Imagination is stimulated by the story of Chinese-Japanese fighting "at the point where the great wall of China runs down to the sea."

Those ancients that built the great wall could not imagine flying machines that would roar above it. They thought they had forever shut out attack by barbarian hordes.

Impossible for us to imagine how little the walls that we build, of finance, industry, law and property protection, will amount to a few centuries hence.

That Japanese one day would fly over the great wall did not occur to the Chinese. The wall itself. That PROPERTY one day will NOT be the most important thing in the world, or at all important, cannot be imagined by those that build laws to protect it and keep out the hungry and dissatisfied.

Nobody quarrels about salt water and fresh air, there are plenty of both for everybody. The day is coming when nobody will quarrel about property or take any special interest in it. There will be enough for everybody, enough food, good books, music and leisure. The only things really important.

Today men accumulate money, wear themselves out and lose their characters doing it, as the tumble-bug exhausts his energies storing up treasures in his storehouse. Men will not be tumble-bugs forever. That is something to be thankful for.

The change will come when the intelligence of men and their science are devoted to providing enough for everybody, instead of too much for a few.

You have read of a flight by Charles Butler, British, from England to Australia, 11,500 miles, in 2 days, 1 hour, 52 minutes, beating the world's record of an hour. More interesting, he flew in the world's smallest airplane, weighing about 500 pounds, and the trip cost him only $175 for fuel and oil, less than two cents a mile.

Airplanes with Diesel engines and cheap fuel will divide that cost by ten before long.

Already automobiles make travel so easy that road-making will be compelled to revise transportation methods or abandon them. Road-making for trucks, all hauls for passengers.

Recently, George Bielestein, known to everybody in his city, traveled from Buffalo, N. Y., to Atlanta, N. C., in a Ford auto-mobile, visiting this writer. The car that carried two passengers could as easily and cheaply have carried five. The trip made in one day, about 500 miles, cost him gas and oil $2.10. For five passengers that would have been one-fifth of a cent a mile. The two passengers it was one-half a cent a mile.

A most valuable asset is the railroad rights of way, which nothing can ever replace. But they must be utilized with modern methods at modern speed and modern economy.

Have you heard of the liver-luke that destroys thousands of sheep? The larvae of the liver-luke live in the soil and are dropped by snails on pastures, eaten by sheep with the grass, and the sheep die.

Liver-luke snails and sheep probably would say, "Men can never do anything but that. They are mistaken."

The Department of Agriculture announces that airplanes will drop copper sulphate dust. It will kill the snails, the liver-luke larvae will have no place to develop, and the sheep will not be killed.

That is something for sheep to be thankful for on this Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Kate Crane-Garts dislikes the idea of peace. She says: "Doesn't the peace caravan trekking across the country with a giant picture to the President mean anything to you?" Yes, undoubtedly, it means PATRISTIC FUTILITY.

We should work for peace, hope for it, pray for it, but we should always be ready for the other thing.

WEATHER

Rain or snow probably ending Saturday morning; not much change in temperature; gentle to moderate easterly wind. Minimum temperature tonight near 33. Sun rises 6:40; sets 4:15. Light all vehicles at 4:45 p.m.

The American is the only Boston daily paper using Universal Service and International News Service.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

A HOME PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE WHO THINK

VOL. 25—No. 209 Published Daily by H. E. Newsham, Inc., Boston, Friday, November 27, 1931 2 CENTS 30th PRICE 3 CENTS

Christmas Club Checks in Boston Over $10,000,000

PEOPLE CALL NEW LAWYER

BOLIVIER TO TELL JAIL FIGHT

Pins Liberty Hope on the Story That He Resisted Haverhill Widow's "Vamping"

Russell Noble, 18, whose secret story of his slaying of Mrs. Clara E. C. Ellis was published exclusively in the Boston Evening American last Wednesday, has launched his own fight for freedom from his cell at state prison.

He has engaged a new lawyer, Atty. George A. Douglas of Boston, in whom he has told the same amazing story that he related to Mrs. Glendower Evans, society philanthropist, and told by her to the Evening American.

Several weeks have passed since he revealed his secrets to Mr. Evans, and nothing tangible had been done in his behalf. Then the car-horn boy, under sentence to spend the rest of his life behind the thick stone walls at Charlestown, began his own battle.

TO SEE LAWYER TODAY

He has confirmed the story told by Mrs. Evans, declaring it correct except in one minor detail.

Today he asked to see Warden Houghton, and when the warden granted this request, as is custom, he said he would like to see a new lawyer come on a matter of importance.

Attorney Douglas, who went word to Charlestown that he would call to see his youthful client late this afternoon, told the Evening American:

"I was called to state prison recently by Russell Noble to discuss his case with him."

"I went over the entire details with the boy, and since that time have investigated the case in person."

"For the present I can make no statement."

No Ties on Her

Mrs. Mary C. Laura, 19, of Somerville, who first had her husband put in jail, then went across the street and got a divorce.

He is Edward R. Laura.

THE JAIL'S WOMAN, EDWARD R. LAURA

Edward R. Laura didn't content his young wife divorces suit today in Middlesex Probate Court, because Edward R. Laura was in jail, across the street from the courthouse—placed there on her non-support complaint.

Judge Colin C. Campbell granted a divorce to Mrs. Mary C. Laura, 19, of Somerville, Somerville, on the grounds of desertion and unfaithfulness. They were married in January, 1928, when she was only 15.

Laura, she testified, lived with her only 18 days and then disappeared for 10 months, at the end of which time he visited her, she testified he is serving a sentence of 18 months in East Cambridge jail on the non-support charge.

She testified he was a sentimental, and that he had a bridge over the non-support charge.

"There could be a turn for the worse without any warning," said Dr. R. N. Smith.

Continued on Page 3, Column 1.

Traffic Commission Have a Hectic Session Behind Closed Doors in Police Headquarters

Back of closed doors, a small war was fought today in the rooms of the traffic commission at police headquarters over the new traffic regulations.

Atty. Silverman was supposed to be a written fight on legality of the traffic department aged for headquarters to the office of Corporation Counsel Samuel Silverman, who had been the butt of a heated attack in the commission rooms.

Atty. Silverman was supposed to be present at the meeting and handle a written fight on legality of the new parking plan advocated by Mayor Curley, but the meeting was forced to adjourn because neither Silverman nor his opinion arrived.

A statement was issued by the commission.

"The traffic commission met this morning for the purpose of considering the alternate parking plan."

THE TRAFFIC COMMISSION

The opinion of the corporation counsel not having been received, it was voted to adjourn until the meeting to be received in writing from the corporation counsel as to the form and legality of the proposed amendments.

The retail board of the Chamber of Commerce, which has protested the plan and asked for a public hearing, sent its manager, Daniel Bloomfield, to the meeting to explain its action to "railroad" the plan into immediate effect.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The mayor and the commission, with the possible exception of Police Commissioner Sullivan, were in the position of seeking to rush final enactment of the new rule in time to have it working during the Christmas shopping season.

The opponents, headed by the downtown stores represented on the trade board, seek first of all to postpone the plan until after the Christmas season and then to defeat the plan entirely.

The change of law must be advertised two successive weeks.

Continued on Page 3, Column 2.

Boston Banks Are Sending Out Huge Sum for Depositors for Yuletide Shopping

With a greater Boston today sending out ten million dollars in Christmas Club checks.

The greatest amount to be sent in Christmas Club checks this year is $11,187,000, according to the Boston Savings Bank.

The Boston Savings Bank is sending out $11,187,000 in Christmas Club checks.

The Boston Savings Bank is sending out $11,187,000 in Christmas Club checks.

INCREASE THIS YEAR

Many of these banks reported an increase in Christmas club savings this year over last. The Atlantic National Bank reported $200,000 this year as compared to $100,000 last year.

Over $2,000,000 was distributed from three national banks in Boston alone. The 105 national banks, 139 savings banks and 68 trust companies listed in the office of the bank commissioner that now have Christmas clubs.

In 1930 a grand total of $29,146,730 was distributed to club members in Massachusetts. It is expected the 1931 total will equal this amount.

The Massachusetts Association of Savings Banks today released the following figures:

BY DISTRICTS

The sum of $2,638,000 was distributed from greater Boston savings banks, the lowest from Arlington in Woburn distributed $1,238,000.

The Worcester South group savings banks distributed $1,027,000 in Christmas Club checks, the Western North group $124,000, and the Connecticut Valley savings banks $109,000.

Dr. Henry T. Bailey of Scituate Dead

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Dr. Henry Turner Bailey, 68, art critic, writer and lecturer, died here from a heart attack suffered while sleeping. He was coming from a recent operation at Scituate, Mass.

Dr. Bailey for 12 years was Dean of the Cleveland School of Art.

Boothill: Grid 'Red Hat' Given Career Ends 20 Years Ago

New Haven, Ct., Nov. 27 (AP).—Capt. Albin Roth of the Yale team, 11 in New Haven Hospital with a cold described as severe and having in it a threat of more serious results, has ended his college football career.

Dr. Marvin Stevens, head coach, said today that Roth's condition was "comfortable," that he had had a good night, and that his temperature was again in the normal range.

Neither Dr. Stevens nor Dr. Roth's condition other than that he has a severe cold.

Roth went in the infirmary on Wednesday. His condition not being satisfactory, he was removed to the hospital yesterday. It was understood that he had infection of the lungs.

It is expected Roth will be in the hospital for many days. All patients were called upon to see the patient at request of Dr. Stevens.

Cardinal O'Connell was the first Boston member of the Sacred College. He was raised to that distinction with Archbishop Farley of New York, at a time when there was only one cardinal in this country—Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore—and his elevation therefore gave his name and a far greater voice in the affairs of the church than he had previously enjoyed.

Cardinal O'Connell was the first Boston member of the Sacred College. He was raised to that distinction with Archbishop Farley of New York, at a time when there was only one cardinal in this country—Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore—and his elevation therefore gave his name and a far greater voice in the affairs of the church than he had previously enjoyed.

Cardinal O'Connell was the first Boston member of the Sacred College. He was raised to that distinction with Archbishop Farley of New York, at a time when there was only one cardinal in this country—Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore—and his elevation therefore gave his name and a far greater voice in the affairs of the church than he had previously enjoyed.

Cardinal O'Connell was the first Boston member of the Sacred College. He was raised to that distinction with Archbishop Farley of New York, at a time when there was only one cardinal in this country—Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore—and his elevation therefore gave his name and a far greater voice in the affairs of the church than he had previously enjoyed.

Cardinal O'Connell was the first Boston member of the Sacred College. He was raised to that distinction with Archbishop Farley of New York, at a time when there was only one cardinal in this country—Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore—and his elevation therefore gave his name and a far greater voice in the affairs of the church than he had previously enjoyed.

Cardinal O'Connell was the first Boston member of the Sacred College. He was raised to that distinction with Archbishop Farley of New York, at a time when there was only one cardinal in this country—Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore—and his elevation therefore gave his name and a far greater voice in the affairs of the church than he had previously enjoyed.

Cardinal O'Connell was the first Boston member of the Sacred College. He was raised to that distinction with Archbishop Farley of New York, at a time when there was only one cardinal in this country—Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore—and his elevation therefore gave his name and a far greater voice in the affairs of the church than he had previously enjoyed.

Cardinal O'Connell was the first Boston member of the Sacred College. He was raised to that distinction with Archbishop Farley of New York, at a time when there was only one cardinal in this country—Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore—and his elevation therefore gave his name and a far greater voice in the affairs of the church than he had previously enjoyed.

Cardinal O'Connell was the first Boston member of the Sacred College. He was raised to that distinction with Archbishop Farley of New York, at a time when there was only one cardinal in this country—Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore—and his elevation therefore gave his name and a far greater voice in the affairs of the church than he had previously enjoyed.

Cardinal O'Connell was the first Boston member of the Sacred College. He was raised to that distinction with Archbishop Farley of New York, at a time when there was only one cardinal in this country—Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore—and his elevation therefore gave his name and a far greater voice in the affairs of the church than he had previously enjoyed.

'1-Man Police Force' Nabs 7 Armed in Fight

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

Patrolman Daniel L. Donahue, who single-handedly captured a gang of seven suspects after a battle in a Shawmut ave. pool hall. He is shown holding one of the guns taken from his captives. (Story, other picture on Page 17.)

SLEUTHS MUST QUIT 'PICKYLINE' ARRESTS'

Capt. Anderson Orders 120 Detectives to "Go Out and Get Real Crooks, Killers"

"Produce or get out," the 120 detectives of the bureau of criminal investigation at police headquarters were told today by Capt. John M. Anderson, their new second in command.

In a dressing-down that lasted an hour and a quarter, Capt. Anderson ordered members of the bureau to drop "pickyline" liquor and non-support cases and go out and arrest murderers, thieves and holdup men.

Some surprise changes in the bureau are impending, he told them. He ordered an end to individual "pickyline" and demanded that the headquarters men notify and co-operate with division captains in their work.

WORDS AFFLAIDED

"The fact is you've got to show ability if you want to stay here," he said in denouncing a long list of "pickyline" suspects. "When he had finished with 'Now, get out and do something,' he was heartily applauded."

The former Back Bay and South End division captain, who became Superintendent McDuff's assistant in charge of the bureau a month ago, began his talk with the announcement that he had recommended a few changes "which may come as surprises."

"They'll be carried through if I have anything to say about it," he said.

Turning to members of the pickyline squad he began:

"Instead of being in to answer roll-call every morning, you should be in the subway getting things done. The pickyline men, you should be in the subway getting things done and be back in bed again by 10 o'clock, and I want you out there to get them before they return to their homes."

HITS "GLORY SEEKERS"

The detective bureau is handling too much pleasure work. Liquor, non-support and statutory cases should be handled by the divisions, not by headquarters.

"If anybody phones you or writes you an anonymous letter about a 'pickyline,' get the hell out of there. You've got to get important work. If you expect the division to command you to co-operate with you, you've got to co-operate with them."

"I want the business of glory-seeking by going over their heads, stopped. If you go over their heads, it looks as if you're either incompetent or 'in.' If the captain has a case, you've got to solve the people upstairs here know what to do about it."

"I don't want good detectives wasting time to any longer in liquor cases and in other cases."

Continued on Page 2, Column 8.

TOM MIX NOW AT DANGER POINT

Hollywood, Nov. 27 (AP).—Tom Mix was at the crisis today in his fight being made to save his life from a physical ailment. He thought that by nightfall they would be able to tell whether the famous cowboy of the screen and circus would survive.

Mix, suffering from peritonitis, due to a ruptured appendix, showed a slight improvement today, according to the doctors.

"There could be a turn for the worse without any warning," said Dr. R. N. Smith.

Continued on Page 2, Column 1.

Thrills in Pictures

The Life of Tom Mix

Cowboy, Texas Ranger and Movie Star

JAPAN-CHINA BULLETINS

Washington, Nov. 27 (AP).—The American government has made representations to Japan against possible attack by Japanese on Manchuria today, according to word received in official sources here.

Tokyo, Nov. 27 (IN).—Japanese officers bombed the important city of Chinchow on the Frying-Mukden railway today, according to word received in official sources here.

Paris, Nov. 27 (AP).—The League of Nations Council tonight declined to adopt the Manchurian resolution under discussion for several days on the ground that it first should provide the endorsement of the Chinese.

Tokyo, Nov. 27 (IN).—A Foreign Office spokesman predicted the cabinet would resign if Japanese troops occupied Chinchow.

Story on Page 2

FIRST SNOW OF SEASON HERE

The first snow of the backward season began falling in Boston early this afternoon.

The snow began falling in general throughout Massachusetts, except on Cape Cod, and the weather men predicted it would be lasting at least a week, with a light snow on Saturday.

A light easterly wind was blowing and it was snowing in parts of New York State, with rain rather west. Little final setting in temperature is predicted.

Snow was general in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, with a similar experience, with a white blanket in the state of Pittsburgh.

Chilly weather, registering temperatures as low as 16 at Graysville, Va.

Good News

In the Day's News

(Further detail elsewhere in this edition.)

UNITED BUSINESS SERVICE of Boston is looking for sales men generally.

PRESIDENT SEIBERLING of Seiberling Tire, touring nation, reports western business.

PIERCE-ARROW official reports hundreds of workers are returning to payroll.

New building contracts awarded to New England for past week total $1,568,300 against $1,775,700.

BUSINESS WEEK's index of business activity for past week is 86.1, compared with 83.8 in previous week.

3 Wall Paper Plants Running Extra Time

New York, Nov. 27 (AP).—The Wall Paper Association reported today that three factories, at New York, New York, and New York, Pa., have begun overtime work and put on extra shifts to fill a rush of orders.

The factory at Pittsburgh is operating on a 24-hour basis and the others are working two full shifts.

Woman Art Expert to Wed

Springfield, Nov. 27 (AP).—The engagement was announced today of Miss Cordelia C. Sargent, curator of the Springfield Art Museum, to John D. Pond of Agawam, a Springfield businessman.

Miss Sargent has been with the museum 25 years.

PANTAGES' JURY ACQUITS HIM

Los Angeles, Nov. 27 (AP).—A verdict of acquittal was returned today by the jury in the retrial of Alexander Panagis, theater millionnaire accused and once convicted of an attack on Knickerbocker.

Pringle, youthful dancer.

The jury was out 60 hours.

The jury was out 60 hours.

The jury was out 60 hours.

The jury was out 60 hours.

The jury was out 60 hours.

The jury was out 60 hours.

Balances and Receipts

Treasurer's Office, 1100 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

Customers' receipts: $1,251,123

In Today's American

Amusements.....$2.35

Buschfield (city).....$2.35

Comet Puzle.....$2.35

Crossword Puzzle.....$2.35

Daily True Story.....$2.35

Editorial News.....$2.35

Editorial Page.....$2.35

SEEKS WORLD WAR AHEAD, PLACES AMERICA PEOPLE

PROSCOW SAYS U. S. FILED TO CO-OPERATE

Action With Russia Would Have Averted Crisis, Is Russian Belief

By EARL H. VON WIEGAND
Universal Service Special Cable
Moscow, Nov. 27 (U.S.)—The failure of America to co-operate with Soviet Russia in the Manchurian crisis has opened the way to what may develop into another world war, it was said here today.

High officials declared that Soviet-American co-operation early in the Manchurian dispute would have been more effective than the Paris negotiations being conducted by the League of Nations, supported by the United States.

TROUBLE AHEAD
Authorities here are convinced that the Manchurian conflict has not yet reached its most acute stage and that the world has come to worry over possible developments in the Far East next year.

The fact that the League and Washington are continuing urging Russia in their efforts to bring about an amicable adjustment between China and Japan is much commented upon here.

The view is held that the inaction of the League, coupled with the attitude of Britain and France, leaves the way wide open for the Japanese to go as far as they like.

COMPLICATIONS GROW
The Russo-Japanese crisis is a dark cloud over the peace of the world for the coming year, it is said, and the situation, fraught with grave possibilities of international complication, is steadily becoming worse.

Had America seen her way clear to co-operate with Russia in a timely warning to Japan, Tokio would not have made the move into Manchuria, or immediately after, war would have halted operations.

THE NEW FIGHT FOR FREEDOM
Continued From First Page
announcement as to what will be done.

FORMER COUNSEL OUT
It was learned that Atty. Richard J. McCormick of Haverhill, who was young Noble's lawyer at the time he pleaded guilty to second degree murder last May, is definitely out of the case.

A statement issued by Atty. Ruben L. Lurie, counsel for Mrs. Glendower Evans, indicated that the wealthy woman would not go further, at least for the present, with her plan of trying to win freedom for the boy.

Annual Victorious Visiting Team

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

RELATIVES
The team, which is composed of the following members: Mrs. J. H. ...

RELATIVES
The team, which is composed of the following members: Mrs. J. H. ...

RELATIVES
The team, which is composed of the following members: Mrs. J. H. ...

RELATIVES
The team, which is composed of the following members: Mrs. J. H. ...

RELATIVES
The team, which is composed of the following members: Mrs. J. H. ...

RELATIVES
The team, which is composed of the following members: Mrs. J. H. ...

RELATIVES
The team, which is composed of the following members: Mrs. J. H. ...

Both Blondes Wanted to Wed Same Man and Could Not Have Him

New York, Nov. 27 (INS)—Love of the same man led Adelaide Leavy, 25, show girl, and Jewel Werner, 20, her friend, to death through a suicide pact, police believed today.

Pleasure and sorrow, material comforts—costly clothes, an elaborately furnished mid-town apartment—the adulation of friends were shared by the two blue-eyed, blonde girls who liked gay companions and lively parties.

Their friendship was threatened when they found themselves in love with the same man.

They decided to die together rather than disrupt their friendship, police said.

From the bedroom they dragged a mattress into the kitchen. They loaded down in a drink. They turned on five jets of the gas oven and laid down, clad in late pajamas, facing each other as the flames began enveloping the room.

The two lives ended in tragedy revealed when Krino Krino, engineer of the building, broke into the apartment because he smelled gas.

A will was found in the living room, decorated with autographed pictures of several famous celebrities, many addressed to "My Dearest" or "My Darling."

In the document, Miss Leavy, known to the stage as Adelaide Leavy, left $10,000 in a bank and half her belongings to Mrs. Adelaide Werner, her grandmother.

RELATIVES
The team, which is composed of the following members: Mrs. J. H. ...

RELATIVES
The team, which is composed of the following members: Mrs. J. H. ...

Weds Again

Mrs. Alice Cudaky McCormick, daughter of the millionaire, who became bride yesterday of John N. Stearns Jr., New York clubman. She was divorced from Leander J. McCormick in 1929.

Since then the couple, and their children, have been living in the same home in Marlboro, but not it came out today—with satisfactory results.

So difficult has been the joint occupancy, Mrs. McCormick testified, and she has been so nervous that she has been unable to do the furniture in the present home, she said.

She said she was in her own belief, testified that one of his costly suits, the $1000 mackintosh of his car each year. During the original trial it was testified that she was paid $1000 for the suit in the $4000 class when new.

Judge Campbell took the case for appeal under advisement today.

RIGHTS ONE ON PARKING PLAN
Continued From First Page
the City Record before it goes into effect. A public hearing must be held within 30 days. Whether it is eventually successful in stalling the new law the commission says it cannot say.

MAJORITY'S CURB LEADER FINED
William V. Disney, Lynn architect and chair leader of Anne Temple McPherson Hutton's Boston record, was fined $100 for four months' suspended sentence in Lynn district court today.

MAJORITY'S CURB LEADER FINED
William V. Disney, Lynn architect and chair leader of Anne Temple McPherson Hutton's Boston record, was fined $100 for four months' suspended sentence in Lynn district court today.

MAJORITY'S CURB LEADER FINED
William V. Disney, Lynn architect and chair leader of Anne Temple McPherson Hutton's Boston record, was fined $100 for four months' suspended sentence in Lynn district court today.

MAJORITY'S CURB LEADER FINED
William V. Disney, Lynn architect and chair leader of Anne Temple McPherson Hutton's Boston record, was fined $100 for four months' suspended sentence in Lynn district court today.

MAJORITY'S CURB LEADER FINED
William V. Disney, Lynn architect and chair leader of Anne Temple McPherson Hutton's Boston record, was fined $100 for four months' suspended sentence in Lynn district court today.

Indians Hail Sun God as Savior of 600 From Blizzard

Gallup, N. M., Nov. 27 (AP)—Medicine men thanked the Sun God today for escape of 600 Navaho and Zuni tribesmen from a snowstorm over the plateau and prayed for the safety of an army now still facing death by starvation and cold.

The sun melted last week's blizzard snow and permitted many tribesmen, marooned on their annual snow and not picking expeditions to return to the settlements. Deep drifts, however, still held the secret of the fate of their brethren.

Nine persons, four of them children, are known to be dead. Hungry, wet and suffering from frozen feet and hands, the stragglers wandered into the Indian to tell of their escape from death.

Admiral Hyde Killed
London, Nov. 27 (U.S.)—Vice-Admiral Richard Hyde fell 50 feet to his death from the window of his room in the Kensington Hotel and was killed.

Commission's Plan Not Parking Solution
The Boston Traffic Commission in trying to improve upon its parking regulations seems in a fair way to defeat its purpose by the latest proposal of twelve hour alternate parking. In fact the Commission is on the verge of bringing about a condition bordering upon bedlam.

With alternate parking, twelve hours on one side of the street, twelve hours on the other side after that, it is obvious that the streets would be parked solid by occupants of buildings and offices who naturally would adopt our streets for all-day parking in preference of putting their cars in garages. Under these conditions it is difficult to see just how a shopper could reach our stores.

This all day parking scheme would constitute a serious menace as well as preventing the loading and unloading of merchandise at mercantile establishments.

We believe by this time that the Traffic Commission realizes that its proposal is not feasible as well as NOT the proper solution of our traffic problem. Such an act will turn Boston's streets over to parking hogs.

If it is the Commission's hope to make it possible for shoppers to use the streets in order to transact business it certainly has proposed a scheme which could only result in the opposite from what it hopes to accomplish.

It is the Commission's hope to make it possible for shoppers to use the streets in order to transact business it certainly has proposed a scheme which could only result in the opposite from what it hopes to accomplish.

It is the Commission's hope to make it possible for shoppers to use the streets in order to transact business it certainly has proposed a scheme which could only result in the opposite from what it hopes to accomplish.

Boy in 'Iron Lung' 90 Days Sets Record

New York, Nov. 27 (INS)—Herbert F. Yarnall, 14, who has entered his 90th day in the "iron lung," the respirator which alone is keeping him alive, today set a new record for the longest time a boy has lived in the machine.

His illness was in answer to doctors at a Brooklyn hospital who had been unable to cure his condition in the apparatus. He was placed in it when his lungs collapsed after an attack of infantile paralysis.

Joan Bennett Mum on Markey Betrol
Hollywood, Nov. 27 (INS)—Joan Bennett, screen actress, retained silent today in a report she would marry George Markey, film writer.

Markey met her at the train in Chicago today and was seen to attend the wedding of her sister, Mrs. George Bennett, to the Marquis de Valdeira.

Girl's Luxury 'DREAM' ENDS
The ease and luxury which she had lived had been ended today for Joana Greenwood, New Bedford, when she and Anthony Ardolino, 28, were arraigned in Municipal Court.

Joana pleaded guilty and was held in $100 for a hearing on Dec. 6 by Judge Card. Ardolino pleaded not guilty and was held in $500.

When arrested the girl had six revolver cartridges in her handbag, and told police they had been given her by Ardolino, who she said, had told her he was leader of a safe-cracking band.

Grandi Plea for
Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 27 (AP)—Dino Grandi today sent a telegram to Dario Grandi, foreign minister in Rome, telling him that under the Pennsylvania constitution he could not grant his request for a pardon for the execution of Philadelphia.

Grandi was in answer to doctors at a Brooklyn hospital who had been unable to cure his condition in the apparatus. He was placed in it when his lungs collapsed after an attack of infantile paralysis.

Joan Bennett Mum on Markey Betrol
Hollywood, Nov. 27 (INS)—Joan Bennett, screen actress, retained silent today in a report she would marry George Markey, film writer.

Markey met her at the train in Chicago today and was seen to attend the wedding of her sister, Mrs. George Bennett, to the Marquis de Valdeira.

Who Interest You and What They Are Doing

Lady Astor Fascinating
Saw Mahatma Gandhi in London, Nov. 27—Lady Astor, American born member of Parliament, is "one of the most fascinating and well-informed women."

Mahatma Gandhi has met her. This is Gandhi confessed after meeting Lady Astor. She asked that a second hearing be arranged. Gandhi's secretary was asked for Lady Astor's "hard" conversation, but each reminded Gandhi of their own position. "But I shall never leave humanity," he said.

Lady Astor Takes Seat in Spanish Academy
Madrid, Nov. 27—Former Provisional President Nicolo Azorin took his seat in the Spanish Academy today. Zamora received 23 votes out of a possible 24 in the election.

His election was the realization of a dream of long standing. He was mentioned for the dictatorship of the Republic in 1930, but the dictator interdicted him from public life.

Nancy Carroll Attends Wedding of Her Sister
New York, Nov. 27—Nancy Carroll, film star, "middle-aged" yesterday, but still with the beauty of her youth, attended the wedding of her sister, Mary Carroll, who was married to Fredrick M. Carroll, a physical education director of the State of New York.

Nancy Carroll was performed by the Rev. William Grant, 55, of the Church of the Visitation.

AMOS 'N' ANDY AT HUGHES'S
"Amos and Andy" were unveiled yesterday in the windows of the Houghton & Dutton store. The miniature, presumably in the style of the original, is a "talking" figure of the famous duo, who were married to Fredrick M. Carroll, a physical education director of the State of New York.

THE REST OF THE NEWS
COACH DYING
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 27 (INS)—College professors and presidents from all parts of the United States gathered in Chicago today to study how best to improve methods of college instruction. Delegates of both sexes, 10,000 members of the American Association of University Professors will plan a survey.

WOMAN KILLS 27
Moscow, Nov. 27 (INS)—Twenty-seven persons were found guilty today of participating in a chain store swindle and sentenced to exile by Moscow's attraction court. The swindle was a woman, Nina Serebrennikova.

AGAINST RAIL MERGER
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 27 (INS)—A committee of the Chamber of Commerce today announced that while it did not favor a merger of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad with the Boston & Maine.

CLAUDE G. BOWERS
The Tax Strategy of the Administration
GILBERT SELDES
True to Type
ELsie ROBINSON
Listen, World!
ROBERT E. ROGERS
This Is Life
HELEN ROWLAND
Marry-Go-Round

O. O. McINTYRE
New York Day by Day
EDGAR A. GUEST
Just Folks

BETTY ALDEN
Beacon Hill Society Gossip
ELsie ROBINSON
Listen, World!

CLAUDE G. BOWERS
The Tax Strategy of the Administration
GILBERT SELDES
True to Type
ELsie ROBINSON
Listen, World!

ROBERT E. ROGERS
This Is Life
HELEN ROWLAND
Marry-Go-Round

SURVIVOR SAYS HE BEGGED FOR LIFEBOAT WHILE 6 DROPPED

DEATH HALTS FILM CAREER

SEA 500 YARDS AWAY FROM SHORE

Lifeboat on Gypsum Prince Not Launched for 20 Minutes; the Rescued Men Coming Here

Lifeboat on Gypsum Prince Not Launched for 20 Minutes; the Rescued Men Coming Here

Dieby, N. S., 27—Telling a tale of sudden death in fog-enshrouded waters off the southern tip of Nova Scotia, six survivors of the sunken Gloucester fishing schooner Edith and Elinor arrived here today.

They came on the steamer Gypsum Prince, which struck the fog-bound Edith and Elinor in the bottom in two and a half minutes, with a loss of six lives. Capt. Simon Theriault of East Ferry, N. S., said he and five others owed their lives to floating deck boards, to which they clung in the chill water until picked up three-quarters of an hour after the crash.

DEATH IN RESCUE

Word that the six men not picked up must have perished was brought by Theriault, who said a search had been fruitless.

Mata Alex Stark, who was hauled up a rope to the Gypsum Prince as the fishing craft went down under his feet, said the steamer's watchman told him the mast lights of the schooner were seen six or seven minutes before the crash.

ENGINEER, MANLEY GODDICK of White Vase, N. S., who was saved with Stark, said for 20 minutes after he reached the Gypsum Prince he pleaded that the Edith and Elinor be lowered and then was necessary to save the lives of the men floating before the lifeboat got away.

Those listed as drowned were: Ernest Gillin of Centerville, N. S.; Bradford Wynnech, Gloucester, Mass.; G. J. Poley, Gloucester; James Brothers, East Boston; Ross, Gloucester, Boston; Joseph Ross, Gloucester, Boston.

COMING TO BOSTON

The Edith and Elinor were 26 hours out of Gloucester and ten miles off Baccara Point when the steamer ran over the sailing ships, the fishermen said. There was no time to launch the dories, Theriault said, and little time for the crew to save themselves.

Goddick rushed to the deck and found a rope had been thrown from the steamer, he and Stark were hauled to safety.

Stark and I were then prepared to leave today for Yarmouth, where they intend to take passage tonight for Boston.

DOGGED BY ILL LUCK

The latter months of her life were dogged with illness and tragedy. Starting on a round-the-world trip last summer, she was obliged to leave the boat at Bermuda for treatment of blood poisoning.

In August, 1928, she narrowly escaped death when a plane in which she was riding with Walter Ruzma, mental, New York broker, crashed near Whitland, N. Y.

Gen. Butler Says Treaties Must Be Upheld With Clubs

SEA 500 YARDS AWAY FROM SHORE

Lifeboat on Gypsum Prince Not Launched for 20 Minutes; the Rescued Men Coming Here

Lifeboat on Gypsum Prince Not Launched for 20 Minutes; the Rescued Men Coming Here

Lifeboat on Gypsum Prince Not Launched for 20 Minutes; the Rescued Men Coming Here

Dieby, N. S., 27—Telling a tale of sudden death in fog-enshrouded waters off the southern tip of Nova Scotia, six survivors of the sunken Gloucester fishing schooner Edith and Elinor arrived here today.

They came on the steamer Gypsum Prince, which struck the fog-bound Edith and Elinor in the bottom in two and a half minutes, with a loss of six lives. Capt. Simon Theriault of East Ferry, N. S., said he and five others owed their lives to floating deck boards, to which they clung in the chill water until picked up three-quarters of an hour after the crash.

ENGINEER, MANLEY GODDICK of White Vase, N. S., who was saved with Stark, said for 20 minutes after he reached the Gypsum Prince he pleaded that the Edith and Elinor be lowered and then was necessary to save the lives of the men floating before the lifeboat got away.

COMING TO BOSTON

The Edith and Elinor were 26 hours out of Gloucester and ten miles off Baccara Point when the steamer ran over the sailing ships, the fishermen said. There was no time to launch the dories, Theriault said, and little time for the crew to save themselves.

Goddick rushed to the deck and found a rope had been thrown from the steamer, he and Stark were hauled to safety.

Stark and I were then prepared to leave today for Yarmouth, where they intend to take passage tonight for Boston.

DOGGED BY ILL LUCK

The latter months of her life were dogged with illness and tragedy. Starting on a round-the-world trip last summer, she was obliged to leave the boat at Bermuda for treatment of blood poisoning.

In August, 1928, she narrowly escaped death when a plane in which she was riding with Walter Ruzma, mental, New York broker, crashed near Whitland, N. Y.

DOOMED BY TALKIES

Although her work in Hollywood was accorded general approbation, it never lived up to the promises she had given in foreign films. The arrival of talking pictures spelled doom to her Hollywood ambitions.

FOUR FOILED IN JAIL BREAK

Providence, Nov. 27 (AP)—A plan by Edward Carroll, 35, of Boston, to escape from custody and free his three gunmen companions, was frustrated today at Providence County jail, when prison officers made a prison-dash attempt.

MOONEY AND AIDS IN FIGHT FOR PARDON

PEACE HINGES ON STRENGTH OF NATIONS

Retired Marine Laid Declares That He Is Personally "Through With War"

Retired Marine Laid Declares That He Is Personally "Through With War"

By QUENTIN REYNOLDS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1931, by International News Service)

Newtown Square, Pa., Nov. 27 (INS)—"Treaties among nations are fine, but when you sign a treaty with your right hand you should have a club in your left—just in case. It's every man for himself in this world and that goes for nations, too. No one is going to fight your battles for you."

Smalley D. Butler, country gentleman, was sitting at his ease in his beautiful Colonial home just 20 miles from Philadelphia. The sunlight streamed through a huge curtained window and splashed upon books, a clock which lay upon a table at Butler's feet.

Byron, a huge dog, shared the sunlight while seeing Butler with a companionable amiability.

JAPAN IS UNFAIR

"Japan is unfair," he flowed through an open window and from the mottled brown landscape of Pennsylvania hills stretched. It was peaceful and restful, but we have Japan's army of China, and you wouldn't go up and take a peek at Jack Dempsey, would you? He too will prepare. If a country is well prepared, no one is going to attack her. Treaties? They don't make any sense."

"China asks the League of Nations to protect her. Human nature enters there. No group of strangers is going to come to your aid in a fight unless they have some common bond with you."

ROOM OF TROPHIES

Retired at 50 Maj. Gen. Butler, the U. S. Marines, makes it is well for good.

As he said this he laughed and waved an arm around the room filled with trophies and souvenirs from his foreign travels.

"What can the country offer me to take the place of this?" he asked.

High above the entrance hall there hung a huge Chinese umbrella, the umbrella of 10,000 blessings presented to him by the Chinese emperor. An enormous lot of brocade said, "presented to Gen. Butler by Gen. Zhu Fu Yu."

DOES WITH WAR

"I don't talk of war," he said. "There are two sons. No one who has some wants another war. This country is so well prepared that no one would dare attack us. But as for me, I'm through with war. You saw that magazine article of mine in which I said to hell with admirals!" Butler went on. "People will criticize me for that but I wasn't talking to people. I was talking to the marines. I wanted to let them know why I was resigning. I talk their language. They talk mine. No one like them—the marines."

RICH RICHARD

After all, perhaps a depression is merely a hammer to drive home the lessons of Thrift.

FRANKLIN SAVINGS BANK

6 Park Sq., Boston
Interest Began Dec. 1

Do You Know

That the cost of a 3-minute telephone call by number from Boston to New York is $4.00 a day rate? And that the overnight rate from 7 to 8:30 p.m. drops to eighty-five cents, and the night rate to sixty cents?

By road, New York is about 240 miles. By telephone, it's only a few seconds. And the cost is surprisingly small.

Gov. Roosevelt

Gov. Roosevelt this morning at a breakfast with his daughter, Mrs. Curtis Hall of Northampton, N. Y., Mr. DeWitt and his wife, James Roosevelt, and his wife.

Gov. Roosevelt

Gov. Roosevelt this morning at a breakfast with his daughter, Mrs. Curtis Hall of Northampton, N. Y., Mr. DeWitt and his wife, James Roosevelt, and his wife.

Gov. Roosevelt

Gov. Roosevelt this morning at a breakfast with his daughter, Mrs. Curtis Hall of Northampton, N. Y., Mr. DeWitt and his wife, James Roosevelt, and his wife.

Gov. Roosevelt

Gov. Roosevelt this morning at a breakfast with his daughter, Mrs. Curtis Hall of Northampton, N. Y., Mr. DeWitt and his wife, James Roosevelt, and his wife.

358 FIRMS GAIN IN 'HARD TIMES'

Washington, Nov. 27 (INS)—A survey by the Commerce Department by means of national scope has revealed 358 examples of commercial and industrial establishments which have made material progress during this period, according to a report given out today by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

In 74 large cities in 20 states 202 manufacturing industries, 43 retail distributors and 19 wholesalers were discovered whose policies contributed to larger business over the last year or more.

Important among the reasons for progress was a more direct advertising appeal through newspapers, magazines and otherwise. These campaigns, backed up in many instances by an excellence of product which has stimulated public confidence and guaranteed a maintenance of sales.

Other methods contributing to progress included market research, new uses of product, better direction of salesmen, study of competition with dealers, expansion of foreign sales, improved services, credit extensions and increased sales outlets.

Today, in the real estate columns of the Evening American, you will find scores of opportunities for profitable investment.

Mad Dog's Victim

Edmund J. Zerbel, 24, of 75 Hudson st., Somerville, whose body is on the way home from the Philippines for burial here. Zerbel, stationed aboard a destroyer, was bitten, with 18 others, by a mad dog

CHURCH BACKS HEARST PLAN

Los Angeles, Nov. 27—Declaring that the $5,000,000 property loan, suggested by William Randolph Hearst, in "the only logical and reasonable proposition thus far presented" to relieve existing conditions, the executive board of the United Church Brotherhood of Los Angeles has announced a resolution favoring immediate adoption of the plan.

In addition to giving its own approval of the Hearst proposal, the church brotherhood will communicate with all similar brotherhoods throughout the nation, requesting like action.

The organization is composed of 350 Protestant churches, with a membership of approximately 25,000. Copies of the resolution will be sent to Senators, Representatives and other public officials, and to all other church brotherhoods in the United States with a request "for their hearty and active cooperation."

Big Lumber Shipment

Topeka, Kas., Nov. 27—A special train of 121 cars of lumber was considered evidence of better times by officials of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway, over whose lines it moved from Westwood, Cal.

LEAGUE ACTS TO CONTROL DOPE

Bangkok, Siam, Nov. 27 (INS)—The League of Nations conference for the suppression of opium smoking has drawn up its report, embodying accomplishments which can be counted on the fingers of one hand. The conference adjourns today.

Outside of ten recommendations aimed at better control of the opium traffic, which are binding on no one, the conference approved a new international agreement containing four articles:

1—Sale of opium is prohibited to anyone under 18.

2—Persons inducing minors to smoke or procure opium shall be imprisoned.

3—Retail opium shops must be either owned by governments or managed by salaried government officials.

4—Certifications of the agreement shall be deposited with the League of Nations secretariat in Geneva.

The record of the conference's rejection of compromises is seen by anti-opium leaders as more important than the agreement. Tempted by the profits of opium sales, the delegates refused to agree to a definite period within which to abolish opium monopolies and rejected numerous constructive proposals to suppress existing abuses.

Killer's Confession Sent West by Plane

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 27—Alleged confessions of Warren S. Pope, alias Frank Webster, to a murder in Salt Lake City, Utah, were sent the chief of police of that city by airplane today.

Pope, a life prisoner at the Portsmouth navy yard, is alleged to have confessed to the murder of Mrs. Dorothy Marmistier and to other crimes in Wyoming and Connecticut.

Hiccupped Victim Better

Norristown, Pa., Nov. 27 (INS)—A victim of hiccupped for 48 days, Mrs. Lillian McCaffin, 32-year-old mother, today was better after an operation.

Police Seek Clues in Sash-Weight Attack

New York, Nov. 27 (INS)—Detectives were stationed today at the bedside of Mrs. Edna Pierson, victim of a brutal sash-weight attack, in the hope she would recover consciousness and tell who beat her.

She was found, unloosed and beaten, in the hallway of a house adjoining the one where she was spending the night with friends.

Business Section Razed

Hopewell, Penn., Nov. 27 (INS)—The entire business section of the mining town was destroyed by fire late yesterday. Damage was estimated at $200,000. Twenty-one families were left homeless.

A new way to season foods in cooking

SPREAD Gulden's Mustard on meats before placing on the fire or in the oven. Mix it in vegetables while they are cooking. The lively little mustard seeds and the delicate spices in Gulden's add fresh delight to cooked dishes—a flavor that's hard to describe, but oh! how your family will relish it!

15¢ GULDEN'S mustard
USE AS A SEASONING IN COOKING

Clarice MOULDED HAT SHOP

The Most Sensational Value Offering of the Year

FELTS MOULDED TO YOUR HEAD

at $1.50

WHAT YOU GET:

A beautiful lustrous felt hat, usually sold at $2.00—moulding—designing and trimming charge usually $2.00; a total value of $4.00 at the extraordinary low price of the completed hat $1.50. All colors. All head sizes.

Every hat is hand-made on the head by expert moulders, giving you an exclusive individual style. Hats moulded and finished while you wait.

Advertise Your Wants in the Boston Evening American.

Special Lot Extra Warm Polo Coats
8.95 Each
Sizes 14 to 20
Expensive material. Lined and warmly interlined.
Raglan Shoulder style
Raised Seams, Two Pockets, Belt, etc.
Brown and Tan Shades
SECOND FLOOR

Here's a lot—Sizes 7 to 14
Dress Coats
2.95 each
SECOND FLOOR
Real dressup styles, smooth material with fur fabric trimming.
Belted style, two pockets
Fully Lined

Big Girls' Polo Coats
5.95
Closeout lot from expensive maker
Raglan shoulder style. Raised seams. Belt all around. Double breasted effect. Warmly lined and interlined.
SECOND FLOOR

RAYMOND'S
Friday and Saturday Ukinbuy
243 Men's & Young Men's Expensive Winter Overcoats
14.50
Models: Double-Breasted Box, Single Breasted, Sum Raglans, and Double Breasted with Half Belts. All hand-felled Sleeves and Collars.
Sum Satin and Celanese Linings
Plaid Backs in Grays, Browns, Oxfords, and Farcy Mixtures. Plenty Plain Blue Coats, Velvet and Self Collars. Sizes 34 to 48.
And Friday-Saturday Ukinbuy
Men's & Young Men's All Wool Blue Serge Suits
Well Tailored. Fast Colors. All Models.
Single and Double Breasted, Men's Conservative 3-Button Models, Young Men's 2-Button Models, Notch and Peak Lapels. Men's and Young Men's Patch Pocket Models. All sizes. Regulars 36 to 50, Shorts 36 to 44, Longs 38 to 44, Stouts 38 to 50, Short Stouts 39 to 46, Long Stouts 40 to 46.

$18.00 1 Pant
$22.50 2 Pants
Less 200 Pairs
"Perfection" Bed Pillows
Extra size, 21x27 inches, filled with Prime Western Chicken feathers, dressed, sterilized and cured. Covering of Amoskeag Hampshire 8-oz. featherproof ticking, in handsome blue ombre stripes.
95¢ EA.
"Perfection" Pillow Sacks
Ready-made pillow sacks made from 8-oz. guaranteed feather-proof tickings. Size 20x28 inches. Genuine 8-oz. Amoskeag ticking, regulation blue and white stripes. Each 30¢
Fancy printed 8-oz. tickings. Colors: Blue, Green, Gold, Orchid, Pink, novelty stripes. Each 35¢
A 100 Imported fancy panel sack, guaranteed feather-proof. Choice of four colors. Each 50¢
EASY BASEMENT.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY UKINBUY
Derbys
POOTY NEW RUNCH $2.75
ALL NICE LININGS
ALSO FRIDAY AND SATURDAY UKINBUY
Hats
—NICE FINE MEN'S FUR FELT—
All the Newest Styles. Nice Linings.
2.00 2.50 2.95 EACH

Imported Dolls
85¢
Curly wig, sleeping eyes, ribbon trim dress, undresser, shoes, hose, hat, 18 inches tall.
Toy Dept. 4th Floor
CHILD'S Boudoir Chair
25 in. high, 14x14 seat, chairs covered, sturdy construction.
4.25
Toy Dept.—4th Floor

Teddy Bears
All Jointed Plush. 10 1/2 inches tall.
35c
Scooters
Made with heavy wood base, iron rod, wood handle, ball bearing wheels, enameled in red. Each
45c
Toy Tourist Trunks
Strong wood frame, imitation leather covering, brass corners, snap lock and bar inner tray; melatonin metal label. Sundry retail price $1.95. Size 16x11 1/2.
95¢

SATURDAY MORNING UKINBUY 118 Genuine
Armstrong Heaviest Rugs
All Korkin Designs. Slightly Irregular in Patterns
8x12 Size $5.35 each
9x10.6 Size $4.95 each
7.6x9 Size $3.45 each
6x9 Size $2.75 each
150-Size 4.6x6.6 Heavy Axminster Rugs $6.85 each
All Perfect—All Seamless
29-6x9 Heaviest Beamless Axminster Rugs $11.95 each

N. Y. LEADER BACKS 6-HOUR DAY

By LAURA VITRAY
New York, Nov. 26.—The spreading of work, as an emergency measure, will help to solve our present unemployment situation.

Thomas J. Watson, president of the Merchants' Association of New York, made that statement today. The association has already endorsed the principle of "spreading work" and has urged its members to take such action whenever required to prevent lay-offs.

"Work the full force part of the time, rather than part the force all of the time," is his advice. As a result, many of the large employers in the New York district are spreading their six-hour day or the five-day week.

NEW BUSINESS ERA

Mr. Watson, who heads the International Business Machines Corp., with more than 3000 employees in the United States and Canada and throughout the world, talked of a new business era that is not only coming but is already here.

"I regard the six-hour day only as a temporary measure," he explained, "because I do not think that we will need everybody in the United States working full time to take care of the immense volume of business that will be ours."

"When prosperity returns I believe it will also be a more substantial prosperity. What do I mean by that? . . . Well, I mean so much foolish speculation, perhaps."

Then Mr. Watson went on to tell his reasons for seeing a period of tremendous industrial activity. This country is now suffering the consequences of the war, he pointed out, by a depression that artificially deflated which was obliged to come.

"The American idea that is at the root of everything we do," he said, "is that everybody wants something better. Moreover, we are anxious to give our masses the chance to enjoy everything that life holds in the way of comfort and enjoyment, including the radio and automobile."

"This spirit of mass enjoyment of the good things of life can only be realized through mass production. Add to this the fact that standards of living are on the upgrade in almost every country, and with a corresponding increase in per capita consumption in these countries. This, with constantly exerting a marked influence on the volume of America's foreign trade."

"GREAT AGE OF MAN"

"This is the Great Age of Man. Machines are just the small tools, the creations of men, that help them do better work. How can they replace men? Man power is the real progressive force in the modern world."

"Improved machines make men dead, . . . their production is relatively cheap. They destroy industry and create jobs."

"Every individual employer today is giving thought to those things which will benefit his employees . . . nor is any chance of policy adopted without careful consideration of its effect upon the workers."

Advertisement

NOT A BITE OF BREAKFAST UNTIL YOU DRINK WATER

Italian Solonae Working Wonders on Headache and Stomach Sufferers
With Simple, Internal Bathing

Why is it that eight out of every ten people today are being made miserable, unhappy and inefficient by constant headaches?
Italian science started the world by giving plain effervescent water before breakfast as the remedy. A homey treatment, but effective sometimes beyond belief. A form of intestinal bathing that makes ailing-looking, party-faced, headache and stomach sufferers take on new life, new appearance and new health.

The way the treatment works is on the same principle of washing out the intestine every morning before breakfast just like you wash dirt off your face and hands. For just as it is necessary to clean ashes from a furnace before a fire burns bright and clear, so it is necessary to wash out the stomach before food goes into it.

Otherwise you must likely cause a bad condition by mixing the food you eat with poisonous like acids, poisons in the stomach that virtually poison the fresh foods you put in it.

For that reason, every man or woman—whether sick or well—is advised to drink effervescent BEFORE BREAKFAST, one-half glass of water with two tablespoonfuls of ordinary Italian Broccoli effervescent in it, followed by a large glass of plain water. That's the whole Italian treatment that thousands of people today are crediting with near-miracles in the relief of constant headaches, sour stomach, acidity, constipation, "bilious" attacks and general lassitude and debility.

GILCHRIST'S AFTER-THANKSGIVING SALE

Saturday...LAST DAY...New Record Breaking Bargain Specials!

Winter Coat Markdowns

For Misses and Women
Rich Fur Trimmed Coats
$29.95

Just 200 coats priced like markdowns. Coats with lavish collars and deep cuffs of opossum, Arabian lynx dyed cone, beaver dyed cone, mink dyed marmot. Smart looking, well tailored coats in the new rough fabrics. Black and new winter shades. Silk lined.

Distinctive Fur Trimmed Coats, $57.50
Originally $69.50 and $79.50, now

Misses' Fur Trimmed Suits, Originally $19.75
$29.50, Reduced Saturday to

Ultra Chic Winter Coats, Originally $78.00
$95.00, Reduced Saturday to

One-of-a-Kind Coats, Originally $110 $95.00
to $135, Reduced Saturday to Women's Pajamas

Regularly 89c
$1.19

Cotton Fannelette two-piece style, tucked in or coat model. Also guaranteed fast color print pajamas. Sizes 16 and 17. Exceptional values!

Hand Made $1.19 Gowns
Regular or extra sizes.

Full cut, well made, beautifully embroidered. 89c

Rayon Underwear
Many Milanesse trimmed rayon bloomers, vest or panties in regular sizes. Extra sizes well tailored. 3 for $1

Lace Trimmed Underwear
Made of strong, durable rayon and glove silk mixture, bloomers, panties, vests beautifully trimmed. Save on Saturday $1

House Dresses

Of Rayon and Cotton
Regularly $2.29
$3

Rayon cotton dresses, prints that you'll like. They're so cheery looking! Good styles, mostly large sizes. Good values at the price.

Princess Peggy Dresses
Smart styles, colorful patterns. In sizes 14 to 44.

Princess Peggy dresses are smart! 79c

Smart Rayon Dresses
Good looking even for street dresses. Sizes 38 to 52. Save on these!

Women's Flannel Robes
Well tailored, all wool flannel robes, an outstanding value Saturday! $2.99

Rayon Crepe Negligees
Dark and light patterns. Every woman should certainly have one. $2.99

Fashion Shoes

For Women
Regularly $3.97
$5.00

Smart styles in black or brown suedes or kidskins. Straps, pumps and ties. Cuban and spike heels. Sizes 4 to 8. AA to C width. A low price for quality!

Children's Sturdy Shoes
Many regularly $3.50. Strap and tie styles. Goodyear welts. Black or brown. Sizes 8½ to 13½ and 1 to 2. $2.49

$1.95 Women's Rubber slide Gaiters. $1.45

$1.50 Women's Boudoir
Slippers $1.00

Boys' and Girls' Gift
Slippers $1.00

Men's Brown Leather
Slippers, padded sole $1.00

GILCHRIST'S—Fourth Floor

Saturday Only!

Come Early . . Many Items
Will Sell Out Before Noon

Tots' Dress and Doll
$1.39

Colorful print panty dresses for tots from 2 to 6, with unbreakable bodi. Neatly boxed. An ideal gift item that will please mothers, too.
GILCHRIST'S—Third Floor

"Scotty," the Stuffed Toy Dog
Will go quickly at only $1

If you haven't met "Scotty" . . . he's just waiting to be introduced. He's a furry white pup with a soft black nose, and all eyes for his new owner.
GILCHRIST'S—Third Floor

Rayon Taffeta
Lamp Shades
Usually $1.69
$2.39

Bell, drum and scalloped shaped lamp shades. Bridge, table and junior sizes. Rust, gold and rose color rayon taffeta.
GILCHRIST'S—Sixth Floor

Gift Slippers
For Men
Exceptionally
Low Priced at $1.79

Why not give him slippers. They're nicely made and they're low priced. Brown Kidskin. Everest style. In sizes 6 to 11.
GILCHRIST'S—Fourth Floor

Pequet Sheets
All Perfect
Full Size $1.99
Twin Size 72c
Single Size 62c
Genuine Pequet sheets. Every one perfect. At this low price you'll be wise to buy your next year's supply. Cases to match. 42x38½, 29c each.
GILCHRIST'S—Fourth Floor

Book Trough End Tables
Usually $1.95
$2.55

Walnut veneered top on hardwood finished in walnut color throughout. Book trough underneath. Place it beside your favorite chair.
GILCHRIST'S—Seventh Floor

Maple Finished
Magazine Racks
Usually $1.69
$2.95

Clever Colonial design. Four-pocket style. Easy to pick up and move about. Ample room for magazines and books. Maple finished on hardwood.
GILCHRIST'S—Seventh Floor

Boudoir Dolls
Rayon Dressed
$2.49

Extra large dolls with human hair, and beautiful lace trimmed rayon dresses in pastel shades or rainbow effects. 3 yard skirt. Save on this!
Art Goods Dept.—Fourth Floor

Fall Frocks
Many ½ Price

Originally $3.95
$5.95 to $10.75

Some slightly soiled from handling. Sheer wools, jerseys, cotton crepes, satins. One and two piece styles. Dresses for all occasions in all the wanted colors. For women, misses, junior misses. Not all sizes in all styles. But a fine assortment!
GILCHRIST'S—Second Floor

Rayon and Glove
Silk Underwear
At This Special
Low Price 69c

Famous brand bloomers, panties or vests, of rayon and glove silk. Strong, durable material that is easy to launder. Sizes 34 to 42. Dainty and practical. They will make extremely attractive and inexpensive sets for gifts.
GILCHRIST'S—Third Floor

Service Sheer Stockings
Full Fashioned 59c
For Only

3 pairs for $1.75
Just think of full fashioned, medium weight, service sheer stockings for only 59c! French heel, little hem and foot for longer wear. In all the new shades, Monbeige, Matin, Tahiti, Indotan, Tropicque, Light and Dark gun metal. A stocking value at 59c.
GILCHRIST'S—Second Floor

Men's Pre-Shrunk
Broadcloth Shirts
69c each

3 for $2
White, blue, green, tan. Collar attached. White also in neckband style. Cut full, perfectly tailored. Every shirt packed in Cellophane. Sizes 14 to 17. Come in early Saturday before they sell out.
GILCHRIST'S—Second Floor

Women's Washable
Capeskin Gloves
Saturday's Price Is Only $1.79

Can you think of a more pleasing and practical gift than a pair of these washable capeskin gloves at this low price? Pull on style. Full pique seven seams with novelty or stitched tops. Fine quality. Well made.
GILCHRIST'S—Second Floor

Chekian or Black Caracul Fur Coats

Also natural muskrat,
Fitch or Beaver trimmed.

Many
Usually
$150 $89.50

Semi fitted with the new higher waistline. All finest quality pelts. Tuxedo, Johnny and bolser shawl collars. Pay only $89.50 now, the balance in 9 monthly payments.

Raccoon Coats
Usually $144
$195

Made from fine dark full furred skins with luxurious collars and deep cuffs. Wool linings with satin yokes. Pay only $144.00 now, the balance in 9 equal payments.

$2.97 Felt
Hats
Good news for the thrifty at $1.97

Piquantly charming woven felt hats, boucle turbans and some of the ever always smart metallic turbans. Felt brim hats, wool soles and "After Dark" hats for the young set.
HAT SHOP—Third Floor

Perfume Atomizers

Usually $1 39c each

Attractive atomizers in Rose, Orchid, Green, Canary. Special with Gilchrist's in Boston. A great value! Compare!

$8.95 Dupont 10 Piece Set, $5.48 Rose, Green or Mauve comb, brush, mirror, puff box, jewel box, buffer, shoe horn, file, cuticle pusher, button hook. Unusual savings!

4 Piece $4.95 Military Set, $2.98 Two military brushes, clothes brush and comb in genuine ebony. Natural, Black. Come early for this great value!
GILCHRIST'S—Second Floor

Men's Warm Gloves

Lined Capeskin!
Exciting
value at $1.19

Men's fine fleece lined capeskin gloves, one clasp models in brown or black. All sizes.

Men's Suede Gloves
One clasp, price same $1.99
sewn in grey with black contrast backs.
GILCHRIST'S—Second Floor

Smart Handbags

Usually $1.89
$3

Calfskin, zippers, grained leathers in pouch, envelope, and top handle styles. Black, brown and dark green.

Fashionable Bags
Made of genuine grained seal and calfskin in top handle, pouch and envelope style. Clever, new styles.
GILCHRIST'S—Second Floor

Make All Your "Christmas Shopping Moments" Count...Eat at the Marble Spa

Laval's Statement Disappoints Berlin

Berlin, Nov. 27 (AP)—Premier Laval's announcement in the French Chamber of Deputies that France could agree only to a provisional reparations arrangement caused considerable disappointment in German official circles today.

M. Laval's declaration that France could not allow Germany's private debts to take precedence over reparations was regarded as a serious obstacle to world economic recovery.

X-RAY BARES NEW SECRETS

Beginning of Life Is Now Revealed

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 27 (AP)—An intensely practical wonderland which the "eyes" of the X-ray has revealed in the past year will be described by about 200 experts at a five-day meeting of the Radiological Society of North America beginning here Monday.

In this wonderland are numerous new views, including pictures which show disease near its start and give medical men toward means of prevention. Among the things which radiologists say can be seen are sources of coughs and of gas poisonings and beginnings of human life long before birth.

"Seeing" with X-rays is a new kind of sight, based upon understanding of faint shadows. It has been found that different kinds of living flesh vary in density, and give characteristic shadows, the meanings of which an expert can read.

Vessel Nearly Run Down in Dense Fog

The crew of the Gloucester fishing schooner, Rhodora, which reached the Fish Pier yesterday from the Cape Shore grounds off Nova Scotia, reported that the vessel had a narrow escape from being run down in the heavy fog off Sable Island last Saturday night.

While the schooner lay hove to, her crew below decks, a large steamer loomed up out of the mist and headed straight for her. Due to the vigilance of the lookout and the sailmaker they shouted an alarm to the men down below and then blew the foghorn. The steamer, then within 50 feet, swerved off a hole.

May Blast Quarry to Find Man's Body

Milton police continued their search today for James P. Duncan, 30, a laborer of Prospect st., East Milton, who disappeared from home Monday night after leaving a note intimating suicide. The police planned to dynamite a quarry hole between Milton and Quincy, filled with 25 feet of water, in the belief the man's body may be there.

A German shepherd dog led searchers to the brink of the water hole.

JOBLESS TO GAIN DESPITE FLOP OF B. C. GAME

The unemployed may yet benefit through the Boston College-Holy Cross football game of yesterday afternoon.

Although probably less than 25,000 tickets for the gridiron battle were sold and the two colleges originally were to receive money from sale of 32,000 tickets, it is understood the arrangement will be readjusted.

Officials of Holy Cross and Boston College were to meet Budget Commissioner Charles J. Fox today with a view to bringing about this readjustment to give the unemployment fund something from the game's receipts.

The official figures of ticket sales were expected to be made public late today by the Harvard Athletic Association, which handled the sale, and which announced unofficially last night that the sale fell just short of $5,000.

Out of the receipts, unless other arrangements are made, $15,000 is to be paid Bob Quinn, Red Sox owner, for rental of Fenway Park.

This park was originally hired for the annual tussle, and Quinn stands to lose $15,000 for temporary seating capacity.

It was in belief that a larger crowd would attend the game that the contest was shifted to the Harvard Stadium.

Mayor Curley said today he would make no statement on the game until official figures were laid before him.

'Lye Slayer' Goes on Hunger Strike

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—Accused of the "lye" murder of her husband, Mrs. Beatie Hensley was on a hunger strike today in Bronx County Jail.

At arraignment charges that in a jealous rage she poured a kettle of boiling lye over the face of Mayor Fairbanks while he was asleep. He died last week. Doctors were to determine whether the woman should be forcibly fed.

Tieup on Huntington Ave.

Early commuters were delayed a quarter of an hour today when an inbound Elevated car developed motor trouble at Huntington and South Huntington aves.

Unusual Values in Ladies' Rings for Christmas Gifts

Beautiful, genuine Amethyst, Black Onyx and Aquamarine rings, also simulated ruby and sapphire rings, set singly and in combination with genuine diamonds. Exquisitely hand made 14k solid white or green gold mountings.

Christmas Club Checks Accepted As Cash

E. B. Horn & Co.

Jewelers for 32 Years

429 WASHINGTON STREET

Comic Stamp

is now the hobby of enthusiastic boys and girls everywhere. Don't miss next Sunday's Comic Weekly, which contains many brightly colored and fascinating stamps—all different—ready to be cut out and added to your collection.

RARE "OLD TIME" COMIC STAMPS IN COLORS

in the next (Nov. 28) Boston Sunday Advertiser

Largest Circulation in New England

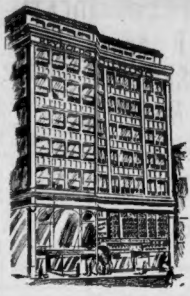

Collecting—

is now the hobby of enthusiastic boys and girls everywhere. Don't miss next Sunday's Comic Weekly, which contains many brightly colored and fascinating stamps—all different—ready to be cut out and added to your collection.

RARE "OLD TIME" COMIC STAMPS IN COLORS

in the next (Nov. 28) Boston Sunday Advertiser

Largest Circulation in New England

41 Winter St.

(REYNOLDS BUILDING)

Shops

You save time—you save money—you supply every need, from apparel and personal services to the convenience of a modern restaurant, when you shop in the Reynolds Building in the heart of the downtown shopping district.

You save time—you save money—you supply every need, from apparel and personal services to the convenience of a modern restaurant, when you shop in the Reynolds Building in the heart of the downtown shopping district.

Directory of Shops
Armin Gowns	Room 51
Baker Plays	Room 31-32
Boston Dry House	Room 41
Boston Fur Co.	Room 511
Boucher, Madam	Room 608
Beauty Salon	Room 709
Carey, Dr. W. J.	Room 42
Chic Gown Shoppe	Room 42
Dresses and Gowns	Room 712
Columbia Fur Shop	Room 712
Corbett-Landry Co.	Room 64
Opener's	Room 75
Florence Daniels	Room 75
Dresses, Gowns, Wraps	Room 108-10
Education Ass'n	Room 108-10
Edwards Fur Shop	Room 76
Closter Ambassador	2nd Floor
Restaurant	Room 510
Gray Box Lending	Room 510
Library	Room 510
Hearing Aids of N. E.	Room 611
Kustell Fur Co.	Room 62-63
Lila's Hat Shop	Room 508-9
Marcus Fur Shop	Room 66
Mason, Ella	Room 711
Dressmaking	Room 611
Muttagh, Miss	Room 611
Nadell Corset Shop	Room 72
New Balance Arch	Room 81-82
Patch's Beauty Shop	Room 84
Scanlon Fur, Inc.	Room 55
Simons Sisters	Room 87
Strat's Beauty Salon	Room 73-74
Tilly, Miss	Room 610
Valenti, Josephine	Room 77

DO YOUR EYES TIRE EASILY?

That May Mean You Need Glasses

Do you get dizzy after you read a short while? Do you get your eyes sore? Do you get your eyes itchy? Do you get your eyes tired? Do you get your eyes sore? Do you get your eyes itchy? Do you get your eyes tired?

Permanent Wave Special $7.50-$10

Includes Finger Waves, Eight methods to choose from.

Madam Boucher
SALON DE BEAUTE
6th Floor LEB. 505

LADIES' TAILORING AND DRESSMAKING

REMODELING A SPECIALTY

PRICES WITHIN REACH OF ALL

ELLA MASON
HUB. 2255 Room 711

D-E-A-F

The DeForest Audiphone, latest invention of Dr. Lee DeForest, will make you hear. A size and model for every requirement and purchase.

FREE DEMONSTRATION
Hearing Aids Co. of N. E.
41 WINTER ST., BOSTON
Tel. Liberty 5119 Hours 9 to 5:30

Ginter's AMBASSADOR Restaurant

ENTIRE 2ND FLOOR
Of beautiful Italian Renaissance design. Delicious food—delightful music—popular prices.

SPECIAL FOR SATURDAY
TOMATO JUICE COCKTAIL
BROILED LAMB CHOP STUFFED TOMATO
FRIED SWEET POTATO
ROLLS AND BUTTER
BAKED APPLE WITH CREAM
TEA OR COFFEE

60c

45c and 50c Luncheons Featured Daily
OPEN 10:30 A. M. TO 8:00 P. M.

A Genuine I. J. Fox Fur Coat...

is the masterpiece of America's Largest Furrier

GENUINE I. J. Fox Fur Coats are made from the choicest pelts the world's fur markets can afford. That's why your I. J. Fox Fur Coat is not only more beautiful but more pliable, comfortable, more durable and warmer. These EXTRA qualities, added to its distinctive Paris style, make an I. J. Fox Fur Coat a lasting value—the finest and most economical investment you can make in clothes. Of course you may use the Budget Payment Plan if you wish.

	Friday and Saturday (9 A. M. to 9 P. M.)
Persian LAMB Silver Fox collar	$345
MUSKRAT	$79
Dark Match SKINS RACCOON	$135
Natural Siberian SQUIRREL	$139
JAP MINK styled by Simon Feres	$235
Last Year's Price NOW
MUSKRAT	$75 $49
CARACUL	88 $9
RACCOON	175 $115
LEOPARD OCELOT	265 $175
SQUIRREL	290 $195
HUDSON SEAL	290 $195
GENUINE LEOPARD	325 $235
JAP MINK	290 $185
PERSIAN LAMB	325 $195
ALASKA SEAL	395 $265
RACCOON	290 $195
GENUINE LEOPARD	415 $285
RUSSIAN CARACUL	435 $285
JAP MINK	490 $325
PERSIAN LAMB	515 $345
MINK	850 $575

I. J. FOX

MANUFACTURING FURRIERS INCORPORATED
403 WASHINGTON ST.
FOURTH FLOOR OPPOSITE FILLEN'S

You Can Have Your Coat RESTYLED as low as $32.50 or RELINED as low as $12.50

Open Every Evening till 9 P. M.

Advertisement

CLEAR AWAY
SKIN IRRITATION WITH RESINOL

Whether it is a simple pimple or a pronounced case of acne—a minor sore or tormenting pile, you will find the soothing properties of Resinol Ointment quick to relieve and heal the disorder. Apply freely—no part too delicate, no surface too irritated for its healing medication. Resinol Soap for the daily toilet keeps the skin soft and clear. Resinol products at all druggists.

SAMPLE FREE!—Write today to Resinol, Dept. 43-X, Baltimore, Md.

DEATH NOTE TO CRIME PROBER

Chicago, Nov. 27 (AP)—Frank J. Leach, president of the Chicago crime commission and a member of President Hoover's crime investigation commission, reported a death threat to the police.

"I heard three sharp raps at the door," he said in explaining how the burglar made his presence known at Leach's suite in a hotel. "When I opened it, nobody was there, but a note on the floor."

He displayed a paper on which was written:

"You had better watch your step. Make one false move and you will be dead. The Black Spot."

A skull and crossbones completed the note.

Leach refused a police guard.

15 LOSE LIVES
IN STORM

Kansas City, Nov. 27 (AP)—Weather conditions throughout the nation are unsettled following Thanksgiving Day storms that added 15 deaths and property damage to the toll in the West.

A party of five motorists drowned in a rain-swollen creek near Tyler, Tex. At least nine Navajo pines but hunters have frozen to death on the blizzard-swept mesa of New Mexico. T. shepherd perished near Glenrock, Wyo.

Nine hundred sheep drowned in a reservoir near Malta, Mont., when they wandered onto this ice in a blizzard.

Here's 'Have' or 'Has' Unemployment Rise
Problem to Solve

Washington, Nov. 27 (AP)—Eminent professors are all at odds over whether "has" or "have" should have been used in a sentence appearing recently in a magazine.

"It is evident that the Museum and the labor union, or rather its latest ramifications, have a depressing effect," was the questioned text.

Two universities and 13 private and public schools approved the "have" as governed by "ramifications." Another university, and 10 schools indicated upon "has."

Turkey on Trip
Farthest North

Point Barrow, Alaska, Nov. 27 (AP)—A Thanksgiving turkey was served for white residents of Point Barrow, nearly 200 miles inside the Arctic Circle—and old timers said they never knew of a turkey being brought to this settlement before.

At a dinner at the Presbyterian Hospital, the handful of whites were the guests of Miss Lillie M. Bailey, the matron.

The turkey was brought here by dog team from Nome, more than 600 miles away.

RAISINS
Go West with Colonel Goodbody on ARPs program Saturday.
Food News Flash!
Station WEEI at 9:45 & 11 A. M.

Household Furniture STORAGE
Packing and Shipment Arranged Boston Storage Warehouse Co.
PHONE CON. 1215 & 1216
EDWARD L. WINGATE
General Manager

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a kitchenette apartment, and the best are advertised daily in the Elm Street columns.

AFTER-THANKSGIVING SALE

GILCHRIST'S BARGAIN BASEMENT

Saturday at 9
Just Look at This Bargain
Novelty Knit Dresses
For Misses and Juniors

Trousseau Doll
With Trunk
85c
11½ inch Doll.
Wardrobe trunk.
Dainty printed dress.
Smart hat to match.
Extra hat, 2 extra bonnets. Cost and bathing suit.

89c
Diagonal weaves, and novelty knit dresses. Smart front pleated skirts. Contrasting collars and Jersey trimmings.

Children's School Shoes
$1
Samples and seconds of Endicott-Johnson and others. Some welts. Patent or dull leather. Oxford and pumps. Sizes 8½ to 2.

Two tone color contrasts
For sport or dress wear
Warm, serviceable and practical
Pleated or flare skirts
Dark or light colors

Men's Dress Shoes, $2
All Goodyear Welts Bal or blucher styles. Boots and oxfords. Sizes 6 to 10. Some seconds of famous names.

Smart Fashionable Dresses
For Women, Misses, Juniors
$1.99
All wool jerseys, Canton crepes and silks. New puff sleeves. Contrasting trims. New neck lines.

New Jersey Raincoats
Women's and Misses' $1.99
Jerseys have warmth, style and are all waterproofed. Fashionable Coachman style. Sizes 16 to 40.

Women's Rayon Underthings
29c
Bloomers, panties, vests and slips. Pastel shades. Applique or lace trimmed.

Boys' School Wear
39c
Broadcloth Shirts (cotton)
Boys' Novelty Sweaters
Boys' Flannel Blouses (cotton)
Some seconds

Women's Corsettes
$1.59
Back lace corse. Front clasp and side hook girder. Long line corsettes with inner belts. Fancy brocade materials with swami or plain top.

Made for specialty shoe stores. Some famous makes. Samples and surplus stocks.

Women's Novelty Shoes
Nearly All Less Than ½ Price
$1.59
Kidskins, calfskins, suedes, patent leathers, and satins. Pumps, ties, oxfords and straps. Low, high or medium heels. Browns, blacks, two tones and others. Even some genuine reptile trims. Samples from a nationally known maker. Sizes 3 to 7. Widths A to D.

From a Western chain of men's stores

Men's Warm Overcoats Suits
$7
OVERCOATS—Plaid backs, thru and thru fabrics, smart new mixtures, heather mixtures. Bluish greys, browns, tans, overplaid. Half belted models. Double breasted styles. Sizes 34 to 44.
SUITS—Men's or young men's models. Attractive patterns and stripes in browns, greys and tans. Sizes 34 to 40 in the group.

Also Big Girls' Oxfords. Sizes 2½ to 8.

Children's Vests and Pants
Cotton flannel lined vests and pants. Long sleeves. Anklet length pants. Sizes 2 to 12. 15c

Boys' and Girls' Sox and Long Stockings
5-8 length sox. Long stockings. Sturdy, long wearing, for school. 15c

Women's Double Outsize Union Suits
Medium weight cotton, rayon strips. Reinforced for wear. 49c

Children's Warm Union Suits
Medium weight cotton, rayon strips. Dutch neck. Elbow sleeves. Knee length. 49c

Fur Fabric Coats
For Misses
$4.99
Black fur fabric coats with all the appearance of Krimmer. Trimmed with contrasting inserts, white or grey fur fabric. Warm, practical and good looking. Sizes 14 to 20 in the lot.

Sample Silk Blouses
$1.95
Crepe back satins, canton crepes. Long sleeves. White and some colors. Jabots, ruffles and tucking, glass buttons.

Girls' Dress Coats
$3.95
Dress coats, fur fabric trimmed. Some fur fabric coats. Many with berets to match. Sizes 7 to 14 in one style or another.

WALLACE BEERY
star of "THE BIG HOUSE"

JACKIE COOPER star of "SKIPPY"

KING VIDOR
the director of the screen's greatest from "The Big Parade" to "Street Scene" with IRENE RICH—ROSCOE ATEs Story by Frances Marion

The CHAMP
A METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER Picture

Immortality awaits them. Wallace Beery—never before so wonderful. Jackie Cooper—the Boy Star with Heaven in his face, King Vidor, directing each golden moment with superb artistry. This picture takes its place among the greatest ever presented by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, producers of such truly great films as "The Big House," "Min and Bill," "A Free Soul," and "The Sin of Madelon Claudet."

BEGINS TODAY LOEW'S STATE
Mass. Ave. at Norway Street
MATS. 30c TILL 8 P. M. EYES. 40c & 50c

NO MAIL OR TELEPHONE ORDERS

NOVEL WELCOME FOR SANTA AT FILENE'S

A lusty acclaim from hundreds of small boys and girls will mingle with the blare of a real clown band when Santa Claus slips down the huge chimney of William Filene's Sons Co. to enter his glittering palace in the store's auditorium, on the fifth floor of the 100-101-Hawley building at 10 o'clock sharp this morning.

And while the clock bounces by Washington, Summer, Franklin and Hawley are, none with the enthusiastic reception, Toto the clown and his dog, Ginger, will be master of ceremonies at a big show and fun frolic in Santa's honor.

5-DAY CELEBRATION
It will be the first event in a two-day celebration, to be presented twice daily, at 10 and 2 o'clock today and tomorrow. Every boy and girl is invited to attend, and it's all right to bring your papa along.

After the clown band's spirited overture, on toy and real instruments, Toto will open the program with his newest batch of tricks in which Ginger takes an active part.

MAGICIAN, TOO
Toto will then present a ventriloquist, who performs among other things, the rare feat of carrying on a conversation while drinking a glass of water. A very mysterious magician will follow the ventriloquist on the program.

Then Santa will lead the grand march in which everybody will join, and the destination will be the biggest surprise of all—Filene's Toy Village on the second, third and fourth floors. Never before has Santa brought such a collection of toys—thousands of them, new and shiny and waiting for the eager clutch of small hands!

Three Women Hurt in Arlington Crash
Three women were injured in a crash in which three autos were involved late yesterday. Maxine Chauncey, 40, of Brattle St., in Arlington.

Mrs. John A. Coleman, Miss Lilian Belzer and Miss Marie Belzer, all of 40 E. St., South Boston, riding in a machine operated by Mrs. Coleman's husband, were hurt though not seriously. The other two machines were operated by Dr. Harold A. Griffin of Ayer and Arthur T. Stevens of Swarts St., Boston.

2-THIRDS RULE LONG BATTLED BY COL. HOUSE

By LOUIS REBOLD
New York, Nov. 27 (U.S.)—The move to smash the undemocratic two-thirds rule by which the party of Jackson and Jefferson nominates national candidates is meeting with pronounced favor. Comments of leading Democrats clearly reflect the belief that the time has come to make such nominations through the use of the democratic majority rule.

Articles printed by the Hearst newspapers calling attention to the inappropriateness of the two-thirds rule have provoked widespread discussions.

Democratic leaders who have so far ignored the demand for ending the two-thirds rule are already discussing plans to have it outlawed as soon as possible.

FAVORED BY HOUSE
Among Democrats of national prominence who favor abolition of the two-thirds rule is Col. E. M. House, who has been an intelligent student of Democratic doctrine for many years, and wielded great influence as political adviser of President Wilson.

As far back as 1904 Col. House voiced his opposition to the two-thirds rule. He led the successful fight against it in his own States, Texas. In discussing that event with the writer yesterday, Col. House said:

"There was lively competition for the nomination for Governor that year. The leading Democratic candidates were Judge afterward Senator, Culberson and Gen. Keagan, who also served in the Senate. Gen. Keagan when he discovered Culberson's nomination was favored by the majority of nominating delegates, immediately retired from the race."

SIDETRACKED BY WAR
"In doing so, he declared that there was no place in the Democratic party for the two-thirds rule and that to depart from the Democratic majority method of settling contests was truly undemocratic. His attack led to the abandonment of the two-thirds rule."

Col. House's fight on the two-thirds rule in 1916, when Wilson was nominated in St. Louis, was so successful because of vital war problems.

The plan then advocated by him was to have the 1916 convention change the rule after the unsuccessful nomination of Mr. Wilson.

had been made, so that it would not be subsequent nominating conventions.

"The reason Mr. Wilson, other leaders, and myself favored this course," said Col. House, "was to remove it above suspicion that it was designed to aid or injure the chances of any individual candidate. By ordering the change so far ahead it would not naturally apply to any situation existing when it was adopted."

Maurice Hats
Next to 16-18 Winter St. See Our Window Display
"The Sensation of the Moment"

New Suede Felt Hats

$2.98
Large and Small Head-sizes

Brims, Tams and close fitting quills—ornaments and Seta Ribbon Trims.

Colors:
Black, Brown, Rust, Jungle, New Rural Blue, Brigade Red

SO smart...so new...so wearable! These clever hats, made especially for MAURICE, have all the "touches" approved by leading Paris designers...all the style features which denote the chic mode in hats. Yet they're not extreme...they're the most wearable interpretations...in a selection so varied you'll find the hat made for you. Of course, the price is astoundingly low for so much style!

Use Bond Ten Payment Budget Service
It costs nothing extra!

It's the convenient and sensible way to buy Fine Clothes. Ask about it when you come in.

1500 more "Cheer Builders" $20 go on sale today at — two trouser suits and overcoats

It's been ages, since one lone $20 bill bought the sort of clothes a self-respecting man would wear. Lots of men still think it can't be done — until they get a look at the new Bond $20 "Cheer Builders". And then their enthusiasm equals ours.

Today, in order to meet record-breaking demands, 1000 more TWO TROUSER "Cheer Builder" suits, and 500 more overcoats go into our stocks at $20. We're not going to write glowing phrases about their style; or tell you a long story about the quality of their rugged woolsens. You've got to see them—and feel them—and try them on. And then wear them hard, for a long time! That's the only way you'll ever realize how much more you get for your money at Bond's—where you buy your clothes direct from the makers—and save all the middleman's profits.

—and as fitting companions for the new "Cheer Builders" our famous "Bond Streeters" and De Luxe lines are now

'25 '30 '35

all suit prices include two trousers

BOND CLOTHES
618 Washington St. at Essex
OPEN SATURDAY UNTIL 9 P. M.

Have summer weather in your home with Burns Bros. Coal

When November blasts creep in around the windows, make sure that every room in the house is cozy and comfortable.

Burns Bros. Coal and Burns Bros. staff of highly trained engineers make this possible.

Let us show you how to get the greatest warmth with the least expense.

Start using Burns Bros. Coal today!

185 Summer St.
Phone Liberty 6515

BURNS COAL BURNS

BEACON HILL

—by—

Betty Alden

IT WAS A SWIFT BELL—NOT A DRAGGING MOMENT! The dear old Somerset was in holiday mood with brilliant lights and profusions of flowers. Mrs. George H. Swift received with her debutante daughter, Miss Lucille and three nieces from Chicago, so there was much handshaking and greetings all around.

The young but welcomed her friends in a pale-colored silk and her sister, Miss Ruth, who came out a year or so ago, wore a corn-colored chiffon. Mrs. Swift wore white with orchids on the shoulder.

It was a college girls' ball, as Miss Swift attends Smith and many of her classmates came down for the occasion. Old and young and mid-afternoon made their presence known to this popular deb and it certainly is nice to see the adults mingling in gaily with the young set. Too often parties are dull because of the over attendance of the cello youths and the base maidens. We notice that even the very young girl likes the attentions of the older man—she rather talk with an older man than with a silly deb. It is good for both of them and the older generation should grace such occasions.

Dancing in the Moonlight

DURING THE DANCING ALL OF THE LIGHTS WERE turned off in the ballroom and the couples swayed to the strains of dreamy waltzes in the moonlight which drifted in through the windows. It was very beautiful and very beautiful. Even the girls with goggles—and there seemed to be quite a few who were wearing the Boston bonnet—were having a wonderful time. We wear them, too, but we usually shed them when dancing in the moonlight.

AMONG THE BEAUTIFUL was Mrs. T. Laurence Saunders (Beate Beate), the most fascinating person who wore a whoopee red velvet with million dollar hairs, having the time of her life. Dudley Clark gave a large dinner party before the ball which she attended as did Mr. and Mrs. Alice Goodwin, another Beate.

ANOTHER STRIKING FAIR Lady was Mrs. E. Sohler Welch, Eliza Bowditch's mother, in black chiffon over pale silk, dancing divinely. Some of these lovely matrons are far more beautiful dangers than their daughters.

AFTER MIDNIGHT, A three-course supper was served and the party broke up with everyone congratulating everyone on having a glorious time.

MRS. ROBERT HERRICK is one of the sponsors for the Mary Wigman dance recital on Thursday evening at Symphony Hall. We attended the Hans Welter recital the other evening—he was one of Miss Wigman's pupils—and found it a trifle heavy, did you? We adore the postcard dancing, but think a libretto should be furnished with it.

FRIDAY MORNING WILL see us at the College Place to hear all about Women Spies from Maj. Thomas Condon of the British Military Intelligence, The Massachusetts League of Women Voters are sponsoring his appearance.

No Turkey, and Now Its Bread and Water

Los Angeles, Nov. 27 (INR)—Forty-three prisoners in the Wilshire police station jail were on a bread and water diet today. Angered when the Thanksgiving feast failed to provide turkey, the 43 rioted, broke up tables and plates, and hurled plates of raw stew, carrots and macaroni at jail attendants.

Ely Spends Quiet Day With Family

Governor Ely spent Thanksgiving Day with his family at the Westfield home. He expects to remain at home over the week-end and may not return to the State House until Tuesday.

PERMANENT WAVES, 1.95

Complete
—a finished
—thick luster
—Shampoo and Lotion
—Treated on Wednesday only —Paris Wig $4.40
—Riviera Marie $9
—Warner Wave $10
With or Without Shampoo

LaSalle

333 WASHINGTON ST.
Room 303
Open Tuesday, 10 to 12 noon only
CAPTION 2106

King of the Hoboes Quits; Will Get Job!

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (INR)—Chicago's weary hobo Willie today was recipient of a manifesto from Joseph Leon Cohen Segal Lazaro-witz, announcing his abdication as king of the Hoboes' Union of America.

On Jan. 1, according to the communication from Crookston, Minn., "King" Lazaro-witz is going to turn over a new leaf. He is going to marry girl in Winnipeg, Canada—and he is going to look for a job!

Step ashore, refreshed in NEW WORK

Luxurious steamers—pleasant service—delicious meals. Warm, comfortable state-rooms, all with hot and cold running water, moderately priced.

ROUND TRIP TICKET $8.50 GOOD FOR 30 DAYS
—Children 5 years and under 12 years $4.25
FALL RIVER PROVIDENCE LINE

Special Boat Train
From Boston to Fall River
Leave Boston 6:00 p.m.
Arrive Fall River 8:15 p.m.
Leave Fall River 8:30 p.m.
Arrive Boston 10:00 p.m.
New York to New Haven
Leave New York 7:00 a.m.
Arrive New Haven 8:00 a.m.

Recreation and Tickets at South Station, Bus Stop and Consolidated Ticket Office, 101 Franklin Street, Phone 27-1040

BUY YOUR TICKETS IN ADVANCE

Automobiles Carried

NEW ENGLAND STEAMSHIP LINES

News and Gossip of Society in Greater Boston

ANNE G. SHEWELL FETED AT LUNCHEON

SOCIETY FAVORITES

MISS CLEVELAND

MISS MARY CLEVELAND, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Cleveland of Concord, and Miss Babette Morison, debutante daughter of the Horace Morisons of Cambridge, as they appeared in gowns they modeled at one of the recent benefit fashion shows.

Tea Dance for Paris Musicals Gertrude and Ruth Coffin

Mrs. Robert L. Shewell entertains at luncheon today, in honor of her debutante daughter, Miss Anne G. Shewell, at the Milton Club. Over 50 deb and post-debs were invited, many of them having been at Milton Academy with Miss Shewell. Mr. and Mrs. Shewell make their home at 220 Canton ave., Milton.

And this afternoon many of the luncheon guests go directly from the club to the tea-dance being given jointly by Mrs. and Mr. William B. Coffin and Mrs. and Mr. Winthrop Coffin for their daughters, the Misses Ruth and Gertrude Coffin at the home of their aunt, Miss Laura Coffin, at 433 Walnut st., Brookline.

Both girls attended the Beaver Country Day School and both are provisional members of the Junior League.

Heading the posers this afternoon is Miss Peggy Faranworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Faranworth, Jr., who made her debut several years ago. Included in this large group who will serve at the tea tables are Miss Ruth Elsie, Miss Barbara Starnett, Miss Hannah Coffin, a younger sister of Miss Gertrude, Miss Linda Collins, Miss Alice Faranworth, assistant of Miss Peggy, Miss Barbara Glidden, Miss Elizabeth Goodwin, Miss Louise Goodwin, Miss Helen Harlow, Miss Katrina Harlow, Miss Barbara Harlow, Miss Helen Harlow, Miss Isabella Lee and Miss Frances Leighton.

Also among the posers are Miss Elizabeth Marston, Miss Frances McElwain, Miss Polly Palmer, Miss Dorothy Pierpont, Miss Rosamond Pratt, Miss Anne Pratt, a deb of last season who is coming on the scene.

POLITICS—

Notes and Gossip About People You Know

MISS GIBBONS WINS POST

State Auditor Frank X. Hurley has appointed Miss Lucille R. Gibbons of Wrentham, as his secretary. His former secretary, Miss Elizabeth R. Farrell, the auditor said, left to be married.

GIBLIN MAY RUN

Edmund W. Giblin, of Ward 13, Jamaica Plain, is being urged by his friends to become a candidate for the House of Representatives to succeed Rep. Joseph C. White, who has his eyes on the Senate.

MAYOR TO STAY IN HOUSE

Mayor-elect Charles H. Sawyer, of Lowell, has decided to finish his present term in the House. He takes the oath of office as mayor the first Monday in January. He has pledged $200 of his next year's salary as representative to the local community chest fund.

BATTLE FLAGS FLYING

The controversy between President Casper G. Bacon, of the Senate, and Senator Joseph W. Monahan over the $400 extra salary for the special session, it is being predicted, may develop into Monahan's running for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant-governor so as to oppose Bacon for that office later in the November election.

A GODFATHER NOW

Frank T. Pedotti, assistant to Mayor Curley, is to be a godfather to his godson-to-be, the son of Patrolman Thomas Freely of the Mink st. station, a friend of many years. The little lad will be named Robert.

PAIR OF TURKEY WINNERS

Frank Potomery of the street layout department, was the winner of the turkey raffle in that office on Wednesday, and the name of Street Commissioner Charles Bogan was drawn in a similar raffle in his office.

PRINCE FOR WHITLEDGE

The success of the recent broadcast from City Hall by Mayor Curley is the interests of the unemployed, is due in large measure to Laird Whitledge, installation man for Station WJAC, who supervises all radio work in the building.

We Have the New Goods Early...Always

A Snapshot Album That's Different

Stop here and see the new Simplex Folio

ITS a genuine pleasure to fill the Simplex Folio with snapshots. The pictures slip into slots in the loose leaves—no pasting to do, no knots to untie.

The covers are smartly designed and may be had in genuine or artificial leather. Other albums at a wide range of prices await your selection.

EASTMAN KODAK STORES, INC.
38 Bromfield Street and Hotel Street.

DEDICATED TO WOMEN OF MODERATE MEANS!

SCOTT FURRIERS SPECIAL EVENTS---FRIDAY and SATURDAY

FUR COATS

Regularly $115 to $145

$88

- SEAL DYED CONEY
- NATURAL MUSKRAT
- SILVER MUSKRAT
- BEAVER DYED CONEY
- FINE MOIRE PONY
- CARACUL

Many trimmed with contrasting furs

OTHER FUR COATS $125 up to $625

CLOTH COATS

Regularly $35.00 and $39.50

$28

- Richly furred with
- SKUNK
- OPOSSUM
- LAPIN
- CARACUL
- MARMINK
- BADGER
- FOX
- BEAVER DYED CONEY

Other Cloth Coats $16.50 to $195

$88
Beaver dyed Coney—Leopard trimmed

$28
Black Changa—Caracul trimmed

SCOTT UNIQUE FUR CLUB

(registered)—the only one in New England

YOU DON'T HAVE TO PAY CASH!

Enjoy small weekly or monthly payments while wearing your clothes. No extra or carrying charges at Scott Furriers!

New England's Largest Fur Establishment

SCOTT Furriers

69 SUMMER STREET

Providence BOSTON Hartford

OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL 9 P.M.

YOUTHFUL DRESSES

One of a brilliant group

$8.95

2 FOR $16

- Chiffons
- French Crepes
- Roshanaras
- Silk Prints
- Triple Sheers

other dresses to $25 and up

YOU DON'T HAVE TO PAY CASH!

By GILBERT SELDES

Who's Shoving?

What Pride?

Behind all these aggressions, we are assured, lie the large masses of population. The city of Los Angeles in being the largest city named in the world, the country is a factor in prosperity and in peace and in war. The edicts of Mussolini, the appeals of French patriots, to create more and more sons, so that the future will find them prepared, are also elements in this murderous mathematics. They are all extremely practical; but if a Swiss should be able to prove to us that his country had a small population, every member of which was healthy, intelligent and happy, I shouldn't know what peaceful answer to make for him.

To be sure, populations aren't increasing with the violent rapidity of the Victorian era any more. Population checks itself. By war, weakness, plague and low birth rate, population adjusts to its growing pains. To facts. Only, as the process is tedious and discouraging, I suggest the Suicide Clubs. Obviously if 20 per cent of the populations of the principal European countries had committed suicide in 1913 the war could have been avoided. If hari kari had become suddenly popular in Japan last year there might not have been any excess population to provide for in Manchuria. As for the next great international, universal and all-embracing war, hadn't we better all commit suicide and avoid it altogether?

I haven't yet worked out the effect of these large-scale self-destructuations on our present industrial decline. Roughly the producers ought to throw their bodies to the fish while the consumers live and multiplied; at least I gather that's what we want, not from activity from the consumers' side, or to exhaust reserve stores so that production can get going again. As the entire scheme is voluntary, we will have to watch our suicides carefully. Enthusiasts who volunteer will have to prove that they are 100 per cent producers and practically incapable of consuming a single item of manufactured goods; otherwise we should have to refuse them a license to go under. And there's no use writing to me that consumers and producers are identical. I've heard that one.

I put this forward as a counter-move against the very real despair Mr. James D. Mooney, an American business man, is issuing a book on "Wages and the Road Ahead," in which he says: "Theoretically we ought to be able to rely on concerted action to bring us out of depressions of this kind, but actually we all know that: the thing just does not work out that way. Everybody's business is nobody's business, and the job never gets done." Mr. Mooney, according to his publishers, believes "that the solution of our business difficulties lies in everybody's getting down to work at his own business."

There is what I call the new despair. I find it unreasonable enough after a few years (they seem like decades) of looking for the results of concerted action from governments and hidden powers behind governments. But it is defeatism, even if it sounds sturdy and independent. It denies that human beings have learned to co-operate and make a good world together, although we have eminent proof that they have learned how to make a bad world together. I haven't much respect for the human animal (unless he is willing to commit suicide in one of my clubs), but I do not think quite so badly of humanity as all that.

Worcester, Nov. 27—An unidentified man of 60 years received injuries that may prove fatal when he was struck today by an automobile driven by John J. Haley of Temple st., Newburyport.

He was taken to Worcester City Hospital - unconscious, suffering from a fractured skull and other injuries.

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—The administration of the city's $100,000,000 fund for the relief of the unemployed was sharply today under the scrutiny of the House committee.

Sam. Sealy, chief counsel for the 4 at legislative committee, which is inquiring into charges of graft and crookedness in New York city, made public the names of persons who he said he had checked one week last June from the relief fund, although there was nothing to indicate that any

The checks ranged from $5.30 to $42 and totaled slightly more than $2000. There were several duplications in the list and many similarities of names, the counsel said. Several of the checks appeared to have been endorsed by the same

Tampa, Fla., Nov. 27 (INS)—Because cigar manufacturers dis-

Because cigar manufacturers charged readers who, through long-established custom in the factories, entertained the cigar-makers as they worked at their benches a general 72-hour strike was called today, affecting 6000 workers in 100 factories.

The action followed a walkout from seven of the city's factories last week.

Manufacturers charge the readers disseminating communist propaganda and cause unrest among the workers.

Names of the 123 persons had been certified to the comptroller by someone in the office of President Larch of the borough of Richmond Seabury said.

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—Donna Antoinetta, the wife of Dino Grandi, bade farewell to the United States today—at a loss for words she said to describe the kaleidoscopic mental pictures she is taking back home.

"Some day I shall return," she said, "and I shall bring with me my little son, Franco, and my daughter Simonetta."
Neither she nor her husband drinks any alcoholic beverage—not even when they are in their own country. They do not even drink wine.

Their abstinence, she said, was due not to principle, but to taste.
 "We do not like it," she said—and laughed at the expressions on the faces about her.
 "Well, what do you drink?"
 someone asked.
 "Water."

Funeral services for Mrs. Nora Supple, mother of five Boston newspapermen, will be held in the Lady of Grace Church, Nichols st. Everett, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden. A son, Leo J. Supple,

$5.00
NEW LOW FARE
TO NEW YORK
On ocean liners "George Washington" and Robert E. Lee via Cape Cod Canal. The water rate is 60 cts from India Wharf, at 4 p. m. daily, except Sunday.

EASTERN

STEAMSHIP LINES

India Wharf, New York 1700s 44 Berth St. (Ken Cable) 30 West 41st St. 4th Ave. Boston

"SALADA" TEA

"Fresh from the Gardens"

In Packets and Individual Tea-Bags

177

“I’ll stand by it!”

"I'll stand by tobacco... in good times, in hard times... all kind of times...it helps a whole lot!"

"I GREW up with tobacco. Mostly I smoke cigarettes now—but I've smoked plenty of cigars, and pipes, too. And I never got anything but good from tobacco in any form—pipe, cigar, or cigarette—and that goes for every smoker I ever heard about.

"Why, I remember as a boy, way back, how the old folks in the fall used to pick and cure tobacco from a little patch they'd raised, and save out the best for their own smoking. And my father fought all through the war, and lived to be ninety.

"He'd certainly appreciate what we get today, though. Just think about these CHESTERFIELDS of mine—fine tobaccos from all over the world, and cured and blended just so; you couldn't get anything purer, or milder. Cleanest factories you ever saw, too—never a hand touching the cigarettes . . . everything up to date.

"A big improvement over the old ways . . . reckon that's why I like CHESTERFIELDS so much. I notice most of my friends get a lot of pleasure out of them, too.*

"But what I started out to say was, you can always depend on tobacco, no matter how things are going. Probably there was never anything in the world that meant so much to so many people, and cost so little, as tobacco—whatever way they smoke it.

"Yes, sir—I'll stand up for tobacco as long as I can strike a match!"

*NOTE. In the sections where tobacco grows and where people know tobacco, Chesterfield is usually the largest-selling cigarette.

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

SALES TAX FOR ILLINOIS UP TO COMMITTEE

Universal Service
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 27.—Ten members of the State Senate headed by Earl B. Beary of Springfield, chairman of the revenue committee, will meet in Chicago tomorrow to hear testimony as to the advisability of recommending a general sales tax law for Illinois.

The meeting is brought about through the adoption in the Senate last week of a motion by Senator Thomas J. Courtney of Chicago to shift burden.

Courtesy and other members of the Beary committee believe a general sales tax, if there must be any new taxation in Illinois, offers the "most palatable way out" toward relief to taxpayers now considered to be carrying a disproportionate share of the tax burden, and to the tax-exempt agencies, whose inability to collect taxes from the sources relied upon in the past has plunged them into a state approaching bankruptcy in Chicago.

Three legislators are of the opinion that the income and tobacco tax proposals made to the current assembly by the tax committee are unfair and unjust, as well as impractical and likely to fall far short of their objective—substituting of the tax base in permit of substantial relief to real estate.

TABACO TAX "DEAD"
The income tax will pass the State Senate, according to Court, unless the sales tax proposition can displace it on a merit basis.

The tobacco tax is regarded by the majority of legislators as already "dead," though unentered. The same view is taken of the suggested increase in license fees for heavier types of trucks and buses.

All of these new taxes were devised to produce $5,000,000 a year, which would allow of a 10 per cent cut in Cook County on real estate taxes. It is asserted.

Hoover "On Fence" in Convention Site
Washington, Nov. 27 (AP)—President Hoover intends to leave the selection of a city for the next Republican national convention strictly to the national committee and is not taking sides for any one site.

White House officials today made it a point to deny reports that the chief executive was ending his influence in the selection of Cleveland.

JORDAN MARSH COMPANY

Pretty scarfs are simple to make...
Easy to give and very acceptable!

Scarf Silks

And they take only a few minutes to hem!

SILK STREET FLOOR—MAIN STORE

Shown are two scarfs in modernistic design. There are a score of others in designs and still others are square, 32x32. You can finish them, ready to give, in just the shortest time. For men or women... a galaxy of beauty at the smallest price imaginable. Just picture them with a brown, black or green coat—a note of lively color.

If you make your Christmas gifts, they're sure to love them!

Listen in to Station WEEI every Tuesday at 9-10 A. M. to our SILK FASHIONS broadcast; Miss Elizabeth Sperry of Vogue Pattern Service.

GLORIA HAPPY AS BRIDE OF MARQUIS

Loved Man as Well as Delighted in Title

GLORIA SWANSON, on January 28, 1925, became the Marquise de la Palasse. From the moment she became the bride of the Marquis she started to live up to the part. Wherever she went, as the wife of Wallace Berry and of Herbert Somborn, she had been pleasant to newspaper reporters and to her friends, she suddenly became difficult to reach.

The name Swanson, that had served her well through all the years, was discarded. Gloria became the Marquise even in her friends.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Motion Picture Editor of Universal Service, Inc.

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 27.—Gloria Swanson's arrival in New York with her titled bridegroom was something no one who was there at the time will ever forget. The New York dailies sent out the best members of their staffs to greet the American cinema star, the first one who had married a title.

Many society girls had nuptials—princes, dukes, counts, etc., but Miss Swanson was the first motion picture actress to acquire the right to be called "marquise." Headlines overflowed the news of their arrival in New York.

I went to the Ritz to call on Gloria. I had heard accounts of how she had changed but I saw no evidence of snobbery. She greeted me with delight over her new happiness. She was dressed on a chaise longue in a light blue negligee, looking very pale and interesting but more beautiful than I had ever seen her.

She had had a very dangerous operation just before she left France and she was still convalescing.

"This is really love," she told me. "After all I have been through the last few years I can now settle down to real happiness. Henri is a dear. I want you to meet him."

Any bride might have said just those words. The one thing, however, that I have always remembered, was the wonderful little air that accompanied each statement Gloria made explaining her great happiness.

It was as if she were afraid of being too happy, as if her life had been dreary and painful until she met her Prince Charming. Gloria.

She was in love, not with a title as she has been accused of being, but with the charming boy who had such delightful manners.

For two other matrimonial ventures were now regarded as bitter mistakes.

To go back to my story, I was introduced to Henri, who impresses me as conducting himself unusual.

Rene Gene" deserved these plaudits. It was pretty bad by far the poorest picture Gloria had made in some years. I have always thought that this historical drama was the beginning of the years of uncertain pictures that were to follow.

TOMORROW: She rejects $20,000 a week—and faces ruin in Hollywood as love grows cold.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

Always an actress, her poise and dignity equalled the Marquis' own natural breeding. While he has always been a simple, very real, there was nothing simple about the Marquis. She became at once the great lady. Miss Parsons in this fourth of the series, tells about this grand manner and what happened.

BUY WITH CONFIDENCE AT KENNEDY'S

ON CREDIT

Classes Made Here for the Whole Family

Special Sale

$5.00 Cash or Credit

With Examination

Formerly Sold for $10.00

First quality white gold filled frame with 10K SOLID GOLD nose pad guards

Spherical lenses for near or distant sight. Our registered optometrists are very capable and if you don't need glasses they will tell you so frankly.

LENEX JEWELRY CO.

Boston-Warrenton Distributors

381 Washington St., Boston

611 Mass. Ave., Cambridge

KENWORTH OVERCOATS

Prime examples of sensible economy

Here are overcoats that represent unusual quality at a moderate price... truly exceptional value. Skillfully designed single and double breasted models - warm and durable fabrics - priced to be prime examples of sensible economy

$28.50

Other overcoats $25 to $85

OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

KENNEDY'S

Summer and Hawley

BOSTON PROVIDENCE WORCESTER SPRINGFIELD HARTFORD BROCKTON LYNN SALEM HYDE PARK REVERDE

Latest 1931 Superheterodyne Crosley Radio

The Finest Christmas Gift Imaginable. At a Price Anyone Can Afford.

The Bargain of the Year! $48.50

Pentode—Multi Mu—Screen Grid Chassis

No wonder it gives distance and clarity and selectivity! It combines all the latest and greatest radio advancements...

$3 Down—No Interest to Pay

Summerfield's

The Stores With a Million Friends

727 Washington St., Boston

Open Mon., Sat. Evenings

Used Furniture Store, U. S. Army Base

WHAT DID YOU SEE TODAY

The Evening American buys news as well as sells it

We pay for each and every exclusive news and photo tip that results in a story or picture. No limit on price for tips on extraordinary, exclusive stories.

$50 or More Each Week!

AMERICAN TIP EDITOR, LIBERTY 4000

CHELSEA RESERVEMAN, QUIGLEY 'ROOTER,' IS SUSPENDED

LONE OFFICER CAPTURES 7 IN BATTLE

Victims of Holdups, Safe Breaks to View Prisoners at Headquarters Today

Victims in recent holdups and robberies will be called to police headquarters today to view eight men, seven of whom were arrested by a lone policeman.

One of the men named at police headquarters as an accomplice in the looting of the Acton high school safe yesterday morning by Harvey Croft, 47, arrested in Maynard yesterday in connection with that break.

The man named is John Kozkos, of Cottage st., Lynn. He is charged with carrying a revolver. Kozkos and his six companions were arrested in a Shawmut ave. poolroom by Patrolman Daniel Donahue after a free-for-all fight in which Kozkos allegedly attempted to shoot the officer.

Donahue got possession of the gun and forced the men to line up against the wall while aid was summoned from East Dedham station. The patrolman's right thumb was dislocated.

The six others taken into custody were held as suspicious persons. They gave the names as: Richard McElroy, 18, of Landon st., Arthur Conroy, 24, of Washington at Harry Muller, 25, of Bloomfield st., all of Roxbury, and Francis Powell, 17, of Washington st., Salem.

6 OF 7 PRISONERS LONE COP CAPTURED

LINED UP, SUSPECTS HIDE FACES IN SHAME. Parnell, while Officer George Garnett is shown in federal hat at right in rear. The suspects are Arthur Conroy, John Kozkos, Samuel Douglas, Richard McElroy, Henry Muller and Francis Powell.

Here are six of the seven men. Patrolman Daniel Donahue captured and disarmed in a Shawmut ave. poolroom. Victims of recent robberies are endeavoring to identify them. The officer in uniform is Patrolman Frank

BALLOTS STILL GUARDED FOR RECOUNT

Renfrew Is Dropped by Mayor Whalen Because He Worked for Victorious Nominee

A Chelsea reserve police officer was suspended today for "rooting" for ex-Mayor Lawrence J. Quigley, and Chelsea's ballots were being guarded—all as echoes of the city primaries on Tuesday.

The reserve officer suspended by Mayor John J. Whalen, is Robert P. Renfrew, who was in civilian clothes and off duty when he is alleged to have been balloting for Chelsea's probable next mayor in Precinct 3 of Ward 3.

The ballots were being guarded in the office of City Clerk Richard Volk in expectation that former Representative Frank Crowley, who ran third in the totals, would ask for a recount.

Crowley was topped for a place in the elections by John W. McLeod, who polled about 300 votes more than Crowley and who ran a bad second to Quigley.

Charters by Crowley that the names of dead men were used by illegal voters were declared "null" today by City Clerk Volk, who pointed out that the voting list had been carefully checked against the official list of Chelsea deaths in the past year, and the names of dead voters ruled with red ink.

Death of Malden Man Investigated

Police are investigating the death of Patrick J. Courtney, 44, whose body was found today at the bottom of a rear flight of stairs at 14th Pearl st., Malden, where he roomed.

He was not seen alive last evening by a fellow-worker named Scannell. Scannell says Courtney told him he was going to Meadford to visit a friend.

Final Payments on Federal Taxes Are Due on Dec. 15

Now that you've enjoyed Thanksgiving and are beginning to plan for the annual attack on the old pocketbook for Christmas gifts, you'd better strengthen out that final payment on the federal income tax by December 15.

Bills for the final quarterly payment for 1931 are now being prepared by the clerical force of the internal revenue collector's office.

Mother and 4 Hurt in South End Crash

A mother and her four children were severely shaken up when their automobile and one operated by Philip J. Doherty of Clarendon st., Ashmont, collided at Chandler and Berkeley sts. today.

Police lifted Mrs. T. G. McNamara of Darling st., Roxbury, and her children, Joseph, 13, Kathleen, 9; Mary, 8, and Theresa, 8, from the overturned machine. Doherty was uninjured.

Governor Ely to Be Feted at Reception

The Holy Name Society of the Church of the Sacred Heart, 31 Auburn, Cambridge, will tender a reception to Governor Ely at the Sacred Heart school, Belmont st., Monday night.

The occasion is a unique and reception to the governor's family. The society is celebrating the 50th anniversary of the school's opening.

Only 108 Arrested for Drunkenness

Figures on drunkenness arrests sent to police headquarters showed that only 108 were arrested since the beginning of the year. This is the lowest figure since 1926.

The 108 were arrested in 108 cases. The average of cases was 108 per month.

SPECIAL

AT ALL ECCO STORES

Friend's BEANS

Your choice of California Peas, Kidney or Yellow Eye

3 large cans	50c
Tomato Soup	4 cans 29c
Prudence Hash	2 cans 45c
Shrimp	2 cans 25c
P & G Soap	6 cakes 19c
Merit Tea	1 lb. pkg. 35c

At all ECCO MARKETS

PORK LOINS

To Roast Rib or Chine End lb. 12½c

Lamb Legs	Genuine Spring	1 lb. 23c
Lamb Fores	Genuine Spring	1 lb. 10c
Face of Rump Roast		1 lb. 35c
Frankforts	regular or baby size	1 lb. 19c

ECONOMY GROCERY STORES

NOW WIN GUEST TICKETS TO SEE WALLACE BERRY AND JACKIE COOPER IN "THE CHAMP" at Loew's State Theatre Beginning Today

Here's How! Among the ads in today's Classified columns there are answers in the five questions below. All you have to do is to find the answers on a slip of paper, and mail immediately to the "Hiding Question Editor," Classified Department, Boston American, 511 North St., Boston, Mass.

The first FIVE correct answers received will receive two CONTEMPORARY TICKETS to see the State Theatre... the next five nearest will receive consolation prizes of single tickets. Names of those winning awards will be published in the Classified Ad Section and tickets mailed in winners.

REMEMBER... A NEW CONTEST EVERY DAY... ANYONE MAY WIN! You need not be a subscriber in the Boston American in order to participate. Names may be consulted at the Public Library or at the office of the newspaper.

TODAY'S QUESTIONS:

1. What happened Nov. 24th between R. H. Stearns and Hall's "Cauld Stew"?
2. Whose registered trade mark is "Our Reputation is Your Protection"?
3. Who offers a late "5 Hudson Coach for $545"?
4. Who should write to A. H. Boston American?
5. Where can a private party sell a sedan, coupe or coach?

SANTASON GREETS FATHER

Arriving right on schedule from the North Pole, Santason came down on the Charles river yesterday in his trusty plane and awaiting him on the float was his father. Then Santa and Santason took their places in the two-mile long parade that escorted them to the Jordan Marsh Co. Annex where they will be until Christmas.

300,000 GREET SANTASON

Santason arrived in Boston from the North Pole to be welcomed by thousands of children along the route of one of the most colorful parades ever seen in this city. Today he was established in Santason castle in the toy department of the Jordan Marsh Co. in the annex.

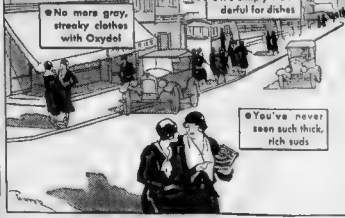

Police estimated that 300,000 people saw the pleasant that wound its colorful way from the landing place at the embankment on the Charles river to the store of the Jordan Marsh Co. His plane had landed in the river after a successful flight from the North Pole.

Santason was received not only by the mayor of Boston, but also by state officials. When he arrived at the float on the river embankment, Santason was greeted by Santa Claus and then introduced to those gathered to welcome him. He then made a few presents. To Carolyn Gynn, four daughter of Frank Gynn of the Jordan Marsh Co. he gave a doll and wardrobe. Francis X. Colley, seven, son of Mayor Curley, got an Erector electric train. In the parade were about 200 clowns, nine bands, 16 Tony Sarg balloons, several beautiful floats—some planned in Santason's honor.

On the reviewing stand at the State House were State officials invited guests and officials of the Jordan Marsh Co. Standing in the front row was State Treasurer Charles F. Hurley, with military aides, Maj. Edward G. Sampson and Capt. V. P. Coyne.

Among those on the reviewing stand were Adj.-Gen. John H. A. New, executive vice-president of the Jordan Marsh Co. Edward Milton, Director Harry F. Tuomey, Vice-President Thomas Lockwood, Employment Director Harold Miller, Sales Promotion Director David Carpenter and Wilfred H. Campbell, advertising manager. Cameron A. Thompson, general merchandise manager, and James Patrick, merchandise manager.

It's 50% MORE SUDS will win you 100—Oxydol speeds up and lightens every washing task because of its 50% more suds.

It gives the same rich, extra suds in either hard or soft water. And it leaves you fresher after your day's work, for Oxydol soaks clothes clean and white with no tireless rubbing.

It's great for dishes and glassware too—gets them sparkling clean, quickly and easily. And your hands will tell you, from the pleasant way it leaves them, that it's perfectly suited to even your most delicate clothes.

Oxydol

THE COMPLETE HOUSEHOLD SOAP
MADE BY THE MAKERS OF IVORY SOAP

Enthusiastic women spread its fame... OXYDOL!

● No more gray, streaky clothes with Oxydol

● It's simply wonderful for dishes

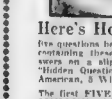

● It makes all washing so much easier

● You've never seen such thick, rich suds

Oxydol

THE COMPLETE HOUSEHOLD SOAP
MADE BY THE MAKERS OF IVORY SOAP

MACARONI and Ham

Hearty eaters or "nibblers"—they'll all ask for more when you serve Macaroni and Ham. It's so delicious it's so good for them! That's why thousands of families have this dish regularly, once every week.

If you don't know the Energy Trio—Macaroni, Spaghetti and Egg Noodles—get acquainted now! Learn how easy it is to prepare these nourishing, appetizing, thrifty foods!

► Clip This Recipe for MACARONI and HAM

8 oz. macaroni 1/2 cup seedless raisins
1 1/2 cups cider 2 tbsp. brown sugar
1 medium onion 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon corn starch
1. Cook macaroni until tender; drain.
2. Place ham in buttered baking dish, spread with mustard, sprinkle with brown sugar. Add raisins, cover with macaroni. 3. Boil cider and thicken with corn starch dissolved in a little cold water. 4. Pour over macaroni and bake covered in hot oven (400°) for one hour. Serves four persons.

FREE! Think Recipe Book of 24 tested dishes. Macaroni Assn., 1207 Peoples Bank Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

THE ENERGY TRIO

— economical —
— delicious —
— healthful —

MACARONI SPAGHETTI EGG NOODLES

Manufacturers using the Energy Trio are members of National Macaroni Manufacturers Association

10 DAYS' FREE TRIAL

AN EXCEPTIONAL OFFER. Wear a set of our Teeth for 10 days, and if at the end of that time you are not satisfied with them, return them and we will refund your money in full.

A Splendid Set of Teeth for $15

Our $30 Feather-weight Set with Gold Pins Now $20

HECOLITE PLATE $28

with Gold Pin Teeth

Other Dentists charge from $50 to $100 for this Plate

Liberal Terms of CREDIT for Those Who Want it

BROKEN PLATES REPAIRED IN 3 HOURS

The SUMMER STREET Dentists

41. BARBERS DENTAL CO. BLDG.
148 SUMMER ST. (Cor. Arch)

DARTMOUTH IS CHOICE TO CONQUER STANFORD

FANNING

—By GEORGE UNDERWOOD—

East vs. West Tossup. Army vs. Notre Dame.
Stanford in Stadium. Bulldog Meets Tiger.
Aiding Mrs. Sheehan.

Sampling the Week-End Sports Offerings

"Oh, East is East, and West is West, and never the twain shall meet, Till earth and sky stand presently at God's great judgment seat; But there is neither East nor West, Border, nor Breed, nor Birth, When two strong men stand face to face, though they come from the ends of the earth."

—KIPPLING.

Kipling wrote the Ballad of East and West before America became all steamed up over football and it became a habit to journey across the continent just for the pleasure of sneering or being sneered on alien real estate. As far as America is concerned East is East and West is West and tomorrow the twain shall meet. Stanford from the sunset shores of the Continent crosses the Great Divide and comes rab-rashing into the sunrise sector of the football front to meet in molekin battle the Dartmouth boys from the blue hills of New Hampshire. And from all the signs along the trail the throng that will pack Harvard's Soldiers Field Stadium until it bulges out at the sides, provided the Weather Man only dishes out the right brand, will see as a school stirring and beat thumping an exhibition of educated Donnybrook as has made Betty-cood shriek "Bite his ear off, Clarence!" all season.

The records of the two indicate a close game and the styles of the two pressure an intensely exciting game. Warner football is open football, tricky football. A long time ago Pop Warner came to Harvard with a band of Carlsbad redskins and pulled the famous football under the jersey stunt, which Harvard never forgot or forgave. Pop has been pulling 'em ever since. Although Pop has invented, originated, perfected, more trick plays and strategic formations than all of the other coaches put together, including the late Knute Rockne, the Sage of Palo Alto always has a few new ones up his sleeve. He'll be sure to spring, or attempt to spring, some of his novelties on Dartmouth. Open football will be matched with open football. You all know Dartmouth's style. It's featured with passing. Between the Morton and McCall spirals and the Allen to Colvin heaves tomorrow's battle will be fought as much in the air as on the land.

A whole flock of us believe that just now Dartmouth has the strongest team on the Eastern gridiron. The Hanoverians were slow in rounding into form but "found" itself against Yale and "peaked" against Cornell. Only the breaks of the game and a skinny point gained from a goal from touchdown enabled Harvard to win by the skin of its teeth over the Hanoverians. The Harvard team that played Dartmouth played a much better game than did the Harvard team that bent the knee to Yale. Barry Wood and his mates were at their best against Dartmouth, but failed to click against the Bulldog. Phil Moffat, Stanford star, has been out of the game most of the season through injuries, but Warner will use his elusive back against Dartmouth. The famous coach, himself, says that Stanford will use its full fighting strength for the first time this season. It looks like a real test between football, East and West. It's a tossup whether the honors will remain here or be taken back over the sunset slopes of the Rockies.

While the Big Green Team from Hanover is meeting the Big Red Team from Palo Alto, tomorrow afternoon, the Princeton Tiger, which this season has been as ferocious as a maltese kitten, tackles the same Bulldog that chewed a hunk out of John Harvard's pants. Anything can happen in football and anything happen especially when two of the combatants happen to be members of the so-called Big Three. But on the showing of both teams this season should Princeton beat Yale the whole football world will faint. To be sure the Tiger is sending its one lone star, Jack James, who has been out all the year through injuries, into the fray. But it looks as if Princeton would have to ring in something more than Jack James. It needs Jesse James himself.

Army apparently has a better chance of beating Notre Dame than Princeton has of defeating Yale, but Army's chances wouldn't bring much in the open market. Notre Dame still is as near as possible as any team can be. Smashing under the stars of the Trojan defeat the South Benders are likely to take all hobbles off tomorrow and the Cadets will have to suffer. But no Army team is backed until the final whistle blows. Win or lose Notre Dame will know it has been in a battle.

Ernie Schaaf is supposed to have punched Vittorio Campolo full of holes. The Cauliflower gentry will tell you that after the Schaaf battering Campolo never can hope to be the same. Yet it would not surprise anyone if the giant Argentinian bowled over the even more huge Carnera in the first of the Giants in Madison Square Garden, tonight. Campolo will be punching straight. He won't need to jump and swing to reach the huge Italian, as did Sharkey and other of Carnera's opponents. If all the "heart" isn't out of him and he can get a cool, experienced handler in the corner to take the place of manager Louis Goldberger, upon whom the N. Y. Commission has placed a ban, Campolo may occasion a surprise. With the banning of Goldberger, however, some of the gentry smell a rat and say, "the works are in against Campolo and Carnera can't lose."

When Charity calls George Mulligan, the Waterbury promoter never turns a deaf ear. He has let Leo Larivee come up for a song from Waterbury to meet Hood, the Englishman, in next Monday night's benefit show for the widow of the late Jack Sheehan at the Arena. The Larivee-Hood bout should be a poppin in the exhibition bouts a flock of old time favorites will be seen, including Al Belmont, Jack Twiss Sullivan, Jimmy Briggs, Emergency Kelly, Eddie Shevlin, Chester Goodwin, Dave Deshler and his son, Red Chapman, Young Kibby, Nate Seigel, Cecil Saggas, Honeyboy Finnegan, and Ed G. Gedeon. It will be Old Time's Night at the Arena. Eddie Mack declares that expense have been cut down to the bone and that Mrs. Sheehan will get all the profits. According to Mack all he will get is "a headache."

Montreal sports writers gave "slow ice" as the reason for the recent defeat of Les Canadiens by the Bruins here. They said a team depending on speed could do nothing against the hard checking Bruins on slow ice. The Boston Garden ice, however, is the fastest on the circuit. This is because it has three times the refrigerating power of any other rink on either side of the border.

Eagles Deprived of Chance as Game With H. C. Halts

Holy Cross routers rushed on the turf of Harvard Stadium to save the goal posts at the north end of the field, and stop the football game of which resulted in play for Boston College. Harvard's victory signal the end, after being informed by Field Judge Bagin that time had expired.

Coach Joe McKenney ran to the middle of the field. The game was not over. A Holy Cross man, Griffin, had been offside on the final play and Boston College rated another play.

The play was not made. The game was over, not officially, but actually.

McKenney walked with reference to the stands.

How would you like to have this menacing looking home-bird tearing in at you? He's one of the Stanford all-stars Dartmouth will face in the Stadium tomorrow. It's Andy Bigelow, the giant guard. They call him "Windy" because he's a human cyclone and blows holes in the opposing line.

HURRICANE FROM WEST

Harvard Ace Hero of Belmont Win Over Waverley

Jack Scherewski, of Harvard, starred to give the Belmont Town team a win over Waverley Town, 7 to 6, at Belmont last night. The ace gave Belmont possession of the Barnham Corbett trophy.

Three forward passes were made in the third period. Muddy Waverley in the third period carried the ball to the four-yard line. Scherewski's tackle scored. A Scherewski-to-Waverley pass was good for the extra point.

WARNER TEAM IS FEARED BY GREEN

The last opportunity this season to see Harvard Stadium goal posts knocked into kudding will be presented tomorrow when Dartmouth, representing the hopes of the East, meets Glenn Warner's Stanford eleven from California.

Coming on the heels of the thrilling Harvard-Yale game and the building battle between Boston College and Holy Cross, the Stadium turf will probably appear football instead of just a rest stage. Dartmouth is a 11 to 8 favorite to win the 12-1/2 mile eleven has showed itself in several all-around games. The Tale game and in addition will have a strong day. The war between who has chilled the stadium to Dartmouth's liking and to the discomfort of the players from the coast. The starting Dartmouth lineup has not yet been selected. Coach Cannon has been experimenting with various combinations in the line and backfield, and will not announce the starters until tomorrow. Only four players are sure to start. Jack Poles and Bill Hoffman have been named as guards, and Bill McCall and Bill Morton will play in the backfield.

Little Chance of Vudickey Playing

Litzenberger and Donner on Mackey and Trest will start at the source, while either Kimball or French will start at center. It is unlikely that Stan Vudickey will get into the game. He has been out practically all season, but Cannon will not take any chances on risking further injury.

The Stanford eleven has had three days in which to rid itself of the effects of its 300-mile trip and appears to be in perfect shape for the game. Glenn "Pop" Warner, the Stanford mentor, has drilled his men thoroughly against the Dartmouth passing attack, and hopes to show the Green a few new tricks himself.

Stanford Attack Is Based on Deception

The Stanford team will depend largely on an attack that is based on speed and deception. Dartmouth's superiority is passing is likely to be diminished by the Vudickey booting them for the victory. Bill Morton has few equals at getting off long punts, but Cadillac, according to Coast critics, will be able to match the Green as boot for boot.

In Chuck Eshborn and Red Hand, Stanford has a pair of tacklers who would rise havoc with Dartmouth's passing attack. Eshborn is the veteran who smothered Dartmouth's aerial game at Palo Alto last year, and he is every bit as good a player this season. The Dartmouth squad is due to arrive late this afternoon and will not expect in any further practice until just before game time tomorrow.

On the Ice

It required much talk and more money to add Capt. George Owen to the Bruins' family.

From the time he was graduated from Harvard in 1923 after winning nine letters in hockey, football and baseball, Owen kept receiving offers to become an ice pro until he finally agreed to join the Boston Bruins in January of 1923. Then the fun began.

The National Hockey League has a strange rule that the club which first sees a promising amateur player can put his name on its roster and if he ever declines to turn pro, he must sign with that club.

Now, it happened that Toronto had Owen listed and the Bruins had to send two star coaches and a bundle of cash to the Leafs to keep Harvard George, only local player on the club, and only U. S. college product in the loop.

The Bruins were entitled to make such extreme use of an amateur player as Owen made good from the start and now rates among the best defencemen in the game.

The Toronto brothers each scored a goal for the Bruins eleven in the opening period, and Harry Watson scored for the Englishmen.

Buffalo Crushed

Chicago, Nov. 27 (U.S.)—The Chicago Bulls defeated the Buffalo Bulls 4 to 0 in the season's debut of the American Hockey League at the Madison Square Garden.

Norwood Has 7-6 Margin on Dedham

Norwood, Nov. 27—Norwood took a seven-point lead in the first period, to defeat Dedham 7 to 6 here.

The Norwood tally came in the first period. Ernie Smollett scored a Dedham punt and Thomas O'Donnell recovered and ran for a touchdown. Charles Gustafson rushed for the extra point.

Irish Soccer Team Defeats English

Ireland defeated England 4 to 1 in the international soccer game played at Sullivan square before a crowd of 4000 fans.

The eleven, selected from the Boston and District League teams, served up 90 minutes of fast soccer with the Irishmen, headed by the Toner brothers, Jim and Hugh, having a slight advantage over their opponents.

The Toner brothers each scored a goal for the Irish eleven in the opening period, and Harry Watson scored for the Englishmen.

Buffalo Crushed

Chicago, Nov. 27 (U.S.)—The Chicago Bulls defeated the Buffalo Bulls 4 to 0 in the season's debut of the American Hockey League at the Madison Square Garden.

Old Timers Hold McGregors to Tie

The Old-Timers held the City McGregors soccer eleven in a 2-to-2 tie in the annual Thanksgiving Day game at Faxon Field, Quincy.

Dave Page, Donald McDermid and Harry Forsyth starred for the stars of yesterday and Archie Allen and Dave Murray excelled for the Killites.

Gold Glove Trials Tomorrow Night

The St. Joe's T. A. Society will stage its final tryouts for the Gold Glove tournament at Mechanics Building on Saturday night. They will be matches in 112, 128, 151, 180 and 175 pounds.

Bill Cuddy says there will be at least 40 bouts. The best action spots in New England will compete and some slugging contests are expected.

Lawless Returns for Home City Go

When Burke Lawless enters the ring with Lou Brullard on next Wednesday at the Rose in Garden he will be satisfying an ambition that he has long nursed. It has been his pet desire to appear at the Boston Garden and show his wares to his many friends and relatives who live in the Boston district.

As a youngster Burke attended the Newton public schools and made friends who had had an interest in his career and followed his upward climb in his professional achievements. When he came was given out as an opponent for Lou Brullard numerous times.

Lawless returned to his home city of Boston, Mass., at the Garden for information as to his fight.

Travel by Train

PRINCETON-YALE FOOTBALL GAME NOVEMBER 28

GOING

1. Boston (South station) 8:15 A.M.

2. New Haven 10:00 A.M.

3. New York 11:45 A.M.

4. New Haven 1:30 P.M.

5. New York 3:15 P.M.

6. New Haven 5:00 P.M.

7. New York 6:45 P.M.

8. New Haven 8:30 P.M.

9. New York 10:15 P.M.

10. New Haven 12:00 A.M.

11. New York 1:45 A.M.

12. New Haven 3:30 A.M.

13. New York 5:15 A.M.

14. New Haven 7:00 A.M.

15. New York 8:45 A.M.

16. New Haven 10:30 A.M.

17. New York 12:15 P.M.

18. New Haven 2:00 P.M.

19. New York 3:45 P.M.

20. New Haven 5:30 P.M.

21. New York 7:15 P.M.

22. New Haven 9:00 P.M.

23. New York 10:45 P.M.

24. New Haven 12:30 A.M.

25. New York 2:15 A.M.

26. New Haven 4:00 A.M.

27. New York 5:45 A.M.

28. New Haven 7:30 A.M.

29. New York 9:15 A.M.

30. New Haven 11:00 A.M.

31. New York 12:45 P.M.

32. New Haven 2:30 P.M.

33. New York 4:15 P.M.

34. New Haven 6:00 P.M.

35. New York 7:45 P.M.

36. New Haven 9:30 P.M.

37. New York 11:15 P.M.

38. New Haven 1:00 A.M.

39. New York 2:45 A.M.

40. New Haven 4:30 A.M.

41. New York 6:15 A.M.

42. New Haven 8:00 A.M.

43. New York 9:45 A.M.

44. New Haven 11:30 A.M.

45. New York 1:15 P.M.

46. New Haven 3:00 P.M.

47. New York 4:45 P.M.

48. New Haven 6:30 P.M.

49. New York 8:15 P.M.

50. New Haven 10:00 P.M.

51. New York 11:45 P.M.

52. New Haven 1:30 A.M.

53. New York 3:15 A.M.

54. New Haven 5:00 A.M.

55. New York 6:45 A.M.

56. New Haven 8:30 A.M.

57. New York 10:15 A.M.

58. New Haven 12:00 P.M.

59. New York 1:45 P.M.

60. New Haven 3:30 P.M.

61. New York 5:15 P.M.

62. New Haven 7:00 P.M.

63. New York 8:45 P.M.

64. New Haven 10:30 P.M.

65. New York 12:15 A.M.

66. New Haven 2:00 A.M.

67. New York 3:45 A.M.

68. New Haven 5:30 A.M.

69. New York 7:15 A.M.

70. New Haven 9:00 A.M.

71. New York 10:45 A.M.

72. New Haven 12:30 P.M.

73. New York 2:15 P.M.

74. New Haven 4:00 P.M.

75. New York 5:45 P.M.

76. New Haven 7:30 P.M.

77. New York 9:15 P.M.

78. New Haven 11:00 P.M.

79. New York 12:45 A.M.

80. New Haven 2:30 A.M.

81. New York 4:15 A.M.

82. New Haven 6:00 A.M.

83. New York 7:45 A.M.

84. New Haven 9:30 A.M.

85. New York 11:15 A.M.

86. New Haven 1:00 P.M.

87. New York 2:45 P.M.

88. New Haven 4:30 P.M.

89. New York 6:15 P.M.

90. New Haven 8:00 P.M.

91. New York 9:45 P.M.

92. New Haven 11:30 P.M.

93. New York 1:15 A.M.

94. New Haven 3:00 A.M.

95. New York 4:45 A.M.

96. New Haven 6:30 A.M.

97. New York 8:15 A.M.

98. New Haven 10:00 A.M.

99. New York 11:45 A.M.

100. New Haven 1:30 P.M.

101. New York 3:15 P.M.

102. New Haven 5:00 P.M.

103. New York 6:45 P.M.

104. New Haven 8:30 P.M.

105. New York 10:15 P.M.

106. New Haven 12:00 A.M.

107. New York 1:45 A.M.

108. New Haven 3:30 A.M.

109. New York 5:15 A.M.

110. New Haven 7:00 A.M.

111. New York 8:45 A.M.

112. New Haven 10:30 A.M.

113. New York 12:15 P.M.

114. New Haven 2:00 P.M.

115. New York 3:45 P.M.

116. New Haven 5:30 P.M.

117. New York 7:15 P.M.

118. New Haven 9:00 P.M.

119. New York 10:45 P.M.

120. New Haven 12:30 A.M.

121. New York 2:15 A.M.

122. New Haven 4:00 A.M.

123. New York 5:45 A.M.

124. New Haven 7:30 A.M.

125. New York 9:15 A.M.

126. New Haven 11:00 A.M.

127. New York 12:45 P.M.

128. New Haven 2:30 P.M.

129. New York 4:15 P.M.

130. New Haven 6:00 P.M.

131. New York 7:45 P.M.

132. New Haven 9:30 P.M.

133. New York 11:15 P.M.

134. New Haven 1:00 A.M.

135. New York 2:45 A.M.

136. New Haven 4:30 A.M.

137. New York 6:15 A.M.

138. New Haven 8:00 A.M.

139. New York 9:45 A.M.

140. New Haven 11:30 A.M.

141. New York 1:15 P.M.

142. New Haven 3:00 P.M.

143. New York 4:45 P.M.

144. New Haven 6:30 P.M.

145. New York 8:15 P.M.

146. New Haven 10:00 P.M.

147. New York 11:45 P.M.

148. New Haven 1:30 A.M.

149. New York 3:15 A.M.

150. New Haven 5:00 A.M.

151. New York 6:45 A.M.

152. New Haven 8:30 A.M.

153. New York 10:15 A.M.

CASEY THINKS GREEN MAY BEAT STANFORD

DARTMOUTH, PRIMED FOR NOVADERS, WILL BE AIDED BY CHANGE IN WEATHER

By Eddie Casey

Harvard Head Coach and American Star Eddie Casey will write an exclusive article for the Boston Evening American each Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The final games of the 1931 football season are upon us. Important games will be played tomorrow in New York, New Haven and Cambridge and then the decks will be cleared for a number of "Unemployed" games and for a few scattered final games such as Southern California and Washington, Tulane and Washington State and Southern California and Georgia.

The outstanding games on tomorrow's card involve Princeton and Yale, Dartmouth and Stanford and Army and Notre Dame. Of these the most prominent this season is that between Army and Notre Dame. This game year after year becomes more and more one of the season's classics, and while Notre Dame will be a general favorite to repeat its victory of a year ago, I will be surprised if Army does not play its best game of the year.

This Army team started the season with bright prospects and, against Michigan State and Harvard in early October, seemed to fulfill predictions that it would be one of the greatest of Cadet eleven. Beaten by Harvard and tied by Yale, the Cadets were further thrown off their stride by the unfortunate loss of Cadet Sheridan, a marvelous boy taken from his teammates as suddenly as the Army team could not be expected to adjust itself to the new order of things.

Army traveled along, winning games that it had expected to win, but losing to Pittsburgh, a fine team, probably the day it played Army one of the greatest teams of the year. Pittsburgh had its day against Army. Dartmouth had its day against Yale. Harvard had its day against Army. Southern California had its day against Notre Dame. All teams during a football season have one day when they as a rule play a little harder, and a little bit better than can be expected of them. Possibly Army will have that day tomorrow.

The Yale-Princeton game on paper is probably the most unique in their rivalry. Princeton has been so unfortunate as to lose its last six games. It must face a Yale team that is one of the best Yale teams I have seen in years. Mac Stevens has done a fine job. He has a smart team, with excellent replacements, a team that should be a better team tomorrow as a result of its Harvard game victory a week ago.

Yale has in Bob Parker a fine quarterback and kicker and in Joe Crowley one of the best backs of the year. Yale has tremendous defensive power and against anything but a strong offensive team it is an attack that will roll. If Capt. Boston is unable to play Yale will miss a good back and drop kicker.

Princeton teams in the past have been inspired to play great games against the blue jerseys. I know from personal playing experience against Princeton teams what an inspired Tiger eleven can do. If Princeton can get the right of game tomorrow or should win, it will be the most amazing upset in modern football. Every sign points to Yale closing its season with a smashing win.

The only intersectional game of the day will be played between Stanford and Dartmouth at the Harvard Stadium. It is the second of a two games, Stanford having defeated Dartmouth 14-7 on the coast last year.

Stanford came to Boston on Wednesday to be greeted by spring like weather. Within 24 hours the weather changed however, and became much colder. There is every sign now that the teams will play on a typically late November New England day. Whether or not, Stanford used to a warmer climate can adjust itself to the weather change is something that will not be known until the game. New England weather in late November is such that the teams may even play on a snow covered field. That would not hurt Dartmouth, but it might hurt Stanford.

This Stanford team has lost two games, being beaten by the great Southern California team and by California. Dartmouth has lost to Harvard and Columbia, tied Yale and defeated Holy Cross and Cornell. The Big Green team came fast at the season's end. It is a team that can use the forward pass most effectively, and which in the last two weeks may have developed a stronger running attack than it showed in early season. Certainly Dartmouth is a representative eastern team.

Stanford's appearance in the east is waited with high interest, and there is considerable sentiment attached to the return to the Stadium of Pop Warner, because it was at that historic field that his Carlisle eleven performed so notably 20 years ago. The various question marks which must surround Stanford because of its long trip across the continent and the uncertainties of the weather make the game a difficult one to forecast. Dartmouth should be primed to play its best game of the year, and may win.

Another exclusive article on football by Eddie Casey will appear in the sports pages of the Boston Evening American on Monday.

The Daily Dozen

By MYLES T. McSWEENEY

The following prayers, murmured before frank assaults on turkey dinners, are hereby recorded that posterity may know them.

"We give thanks that none of our opponents has ever yet been able to hurt us." — Fight managers.

"Because our skulls are hard and our necks thick, we give thanks." — Wrestlers.

"We are grateful that there were only 124 games in the regular season." — Cincinnati baseball club.

"Now that I don't have to find five tickets for the football games, I am most thankful." — George Gritum.

"For our eternal alibi, the ball team ball, we give thanks, O Lord." — Golfers.

"Because I am still able to smile, in spite of Jim Mahoney and Sammy Fuller, I am heartily thankful." — Dan Carroll.

"We are thankful that there is such a man as Mayor Curley, who is known to suffer and who has helped us." — The unemployed.

"Because we are still able to play pretty good football, we give thanks, semipro football centers, for the many fine winning matches we offer our thanks." — Fight fans.

"For the fact that Notre Dame is not on our schedule, our thanks to the football teams."

"Because we are blind, and will be unable to read the Carnegie report on football over-emphasis, we meet our hearts in thanksgiving." — Everyone.

"Now that the Daily Dozen is finished, and I may get my schedule in peace, I humbly offer my thanks, O Lord."

Brookline Tied

by Newton Eleven

Newton and Brookline played a scoreless tie at the Brookline Stadium today.

Newton was on Brookline's right side, while Brookline was in Newton's right side.

WON ONE GAME ALL SEASON

MALDEN WINS TITLE

By GEORGE W. GRIMM

Malden high school football team raced across the finish line ahead of the pack as the 1931 schoolboy grid race came to a closing holiday finish with teams of thousands looking on throughout the state.

Malden, now that the wreckage has been cleared up, has a record that gives Warren McGuire's charges a small but distinguishing edge on the rest of the local schoolboy outfits.

Winthrop, Stanford quite soundly, 12-2 in its finale, Malden completed a season undefeated, although an early-season tie with Melrose is on a very brilliant summary.

Salem just missed, not on an equal claim with Malden by being held to a scoreless tie by a scrapping Beverly brigade. Salem could do nothing with Beverly, which did serve a lot of prizes. The Witch City team, rated as one of the best in the state, was defeated.

But, Brodhead, ever turned out, never got into Beverly's physical line, while Beverly approached to the Salem 11-yard strike on one occasion.

Salem would win without a defeat. But two ties, with Beverly and Brockton, and a victory, knocked Brodhead's team a run lower than Malden in the referendum.

There is still some talk of Malden and Salem meeting in a post-season game for charity. But this is now unlikely. Malden may go to the Midwest for a game with some high school team there.

Larin took the Boston city title, while Somerville again won in the Suburban loop.

Latin's victory over English was a big surprise. A formula, Bourdieu's scoring ability and the long bottling of Tim Blinfield turned the tide against Leo Dale's boys.

Somerville didn't get much glory out of the scoreless tie with Rindge, but it did get the crown by avoiding a defeat. Anas and Larry, Houtenack, did yeoman work in holding Somerville, and both boys are sure to figure on all-scholastic teams after their showing.

Nowhere high school would up a fine season by losing out in a geographic rivalry. Dedham, T. D. Benoy, Murray's boys turned in a fine game, but would have gone unnoted except for a meeting with Quincy which saw Quincy stopping Newwood's attack.

Newton 8, Brookline 8. Newton 8, Chelsea 8. Malden 12, Melrose 2. Salem 12, Beverly 0. Winthrop 12, Brockton 0. Malden 12, Stanford 0. Malden 12, Winthrop 0. Malden 12, Winthrop 0. Malden 12, Winthrop 0.

Bradman Accounts for 200 Runs in Match. Brisbane, Australia, Nov. 27 (AP)—Australia started its test cricket match with South Africa today by putting on 200 runs, not out.

Don Bradman, brilliant young batsman of the home squad accounting for 200 runs, not out. Bradman played despite the handicap of an injured leg, but on almost the first play.

Fights Last Night. By the Associated Press. New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—Police reported that a fight broke out in the East 1st Street area between a group of Irish-Americans and a group of Italian-Americans.

Irish Arrive in Snowstorm. New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Notre Dame Ramblers, 28 of them, arrived today at the Westchester Country Club, in Westchester County, in the East's first snowstorm of the winter, to prepare for their football game at the Yankee Stadium with the Army.

Attended by Coach Hearst (Hunk) Anderson, they left the train at Harlem, N. Y., and went by motor bus to the Westchester Club. They will practice there snow or no snow, this afternoon and then wait until tomorrow to come to New York for the game.

Mrs. Kate Rocher, widow of the former Notre Dame coach, came East with the team, but did not go to the Country Club with them, continuing on to New York.

IRISH ARRIVE IN SNOWSTORM

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Notre Dame Ramblers, 28 of them, arrived today at the Westchester Country Club, in Westchester County, in the East's first snowstorm of the winter, to prepare for their football game at the Yankee Stadium with the Army.

Attended by Coach Hearst (Hunk) Anderson, they left the train at Harlem, N. Y., and went by motor bus to the Westchester Club. They will practice there snow or no snow, this afternoon and then wait until tomorrow to come to New York for the game.

Mrs. Kate Rocher, widow of the former Notre Dame coach, came East with the team, but did not go to the Country Club with them, continuing on to New York.

Howie Morenz Is Given Major Penalty. Montreal, Nov. 27 (INS)—Although their star, Howie Morenz, drew a major penalty, Los Angeles today boasted a victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs. They won in a hard-fought game here last night 3 to 2.

Morenz suffered the penalty, the first of his kind here this season, when he hit Ted Horner over the eye with his stick after Horner had tripped him.

Dartmouth-Stanford Game Goes on Air. New York, Nov. 27 (INS)—Three Eastern football games will be broadcast tomorrow.

N. B. C. will air the Army-Notre Dame game in New York and the Dartmouth-Stanford game at Boston, while C. B. S. will broadcast the Army-Notre Dame and the Yale-Princeton game in New Haven. All of the broadcasts will start at 1:15 p. m. Eastern standard time.

Wrestling Results. By the Associated Press. New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Boston, Cleveland, Chicago, St. Paul, and Detroit wrestling teams, 12 each, arrived today at the Westchester Country Club, in Westchester County, in the East's first snowstorm of the winter, to prepare for their wrestling game at the Yankee Stadium with the Army.

Attended by Coach Hearst (Hunk) Anderson, they left the train at Harlem, N. Y., and went by motor bus to the Westchester Club. They will practice there snow or no snow, this afternoon and then wait until tomorrow to come to New York for the game.

Mrs. Kate Rocher, widow of the former Notre Dame coach, came East with the team, but did not go to the Country Club with them, continuing on to New York.

Howie Morenz Is Given Major Penalty. Montreal, Nov. 27 (INS)—Although their star, Howie Morenz, drew a major penalty, Los Angeles today boasted a victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs. They won in a hard-fought game here last night 3 to 2.

Morenz suffered the penalty, the first of his kind here this season, when he hit Ted Horner over the eye with his stick after Horner had tripped him.

Dartmouth-Stanford Game Goes on Air. New York, Nov. 27 (INS)—Three Eastern football games will be broadcast tomorrow.

N. B. C. will air the Army-Notre Dame game in New York and the Dartmouth-Stanford game at Boston, while C. B. S. will broadcast the Army-Notre Dame and the Yale-Princeton game in New Haven. All of the broadcasts will start at 1:15 p. m. Eastern standard time.

Wrestling Results. By the Associated Press. New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Boston, Cleveland, Chicago, St. Paul, and Detroit wrestling teams, 12 each, arrived today at the Westchester Country Club, in Westchester County, in the East's first snowstorm of the winter, to prepare for their wrestling game at the Yankee Stadium with the Army.

Attended by Coach Hearst (Hunk) Anderson, they left the train at Harlem, N. Y., and went by motor bus to the Westchester Club. They will practice there snow or no snow, this afternoon and then wait until tomorrow to come to New York for the game.

Mrs. Kate Rocher, widow of the former Notre Dame coach, came East with the team, but did not go to the Country Club with them, continuing on to New York.

Howie Morenz Is Given Major Penalty. Montreal, Nov. 27 (INS)—Although their star, Howie Morenz, drew a major penalty, Los Angeles today boasted a victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs. They won in a hard-fought game here last night 3 to 2.

Morenz suffered the penalty, the first of his kind here this season, when he hit Ted Horner over the eye with his stick after Horner had tripped him.

Dartmouth-Stanford Game Goes on Air. New York, Nov. 27 (INS)—Three Eastern football games will be broadcast tomorrow.

MR. BOSTON

By JACK CONWAY

"On to the Stadium!" This is still the battle cry of football fans. Tomorrow afternoon it will be Stanford against Dartmouth. Then the curtain drops for Greater Boston gridiron fans.

I look for plenty of enthusiasm when the sons of old Dartmouth tackle the pugna chasers from sunny California. Intersectional games always furnish special thrills.

Harvard's bend and cheering section will do their stuff for Stanford tomorrow. Just to make the boys from California feel at home.

It was a hard game for Boston College to lose, and a thrilling one for Holy Cross to win.

The attendance was not as good as was expected, but it must be remembered that the contest was obliged to compete for patronage with scores of schoolboy games, and also thousands of family gatherings. If Holy Cross and Boston College clashed in the Stadium on any Saturday afternoon, they would play in a capacity crowd.

Holy Cross will not find it easy to replace Phil O'Connell, who ended his football career with the Purple in the B. C. conflict. O'Connell proved himself to be one of the outstanding backs of the season.

Sheehan Testimonial. Followers of boxing are certain to give their support to the testimonial to the late Jack Sheehan, which will be held at the Arena on next Monday night under the direction of the Argonne A. A. Sheehan was one of the best referees in this country, and always gave his services to any worthy cause. The profits of Monday night's show will be given to the widow of the former sports leader. May they be large.

Jack Sharkey showed a good example to other boxers in the money when he gave a personal donation of $50 to the Sheehan fund.

Eddie Devine tells me he has Charley Parker of the South End trading punches with Nap Froug of Taunton at Bat Silva's Saloon Club next Monday night.

Jack Zernby signed up a new member on the holiday. The young lady was formerly Miss Beesie Thelshien of Boonshott.

Department Commander George W. Cronin of the Veterans of Foreign Wars wishes to thank all who made his charity wrestling show at the Arena a success. The profits of the show will go to erect a cotage at the V. F. W. National Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich. It will be used by the orphans of former members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Commander Cronin was particularly grateful for the aid given him by those persons who bought tickets. Paul Bower, Alex' MacLean and the press.

Now you can buy a KNOK HAT $5 for 5

—a new standard of value and quality

DELANO

Copley-Plaza Hotel

246 Boylston Street 27 Providence Street

276 Washington Street 27 Washington Street

OPEN NIGHTS AND SUNDAYS

McKENNEY IN FRONT RANK OF GRID COACHES

SHOWING OF EAGLES DUE TO MENTOR

By BILL GRIMES
After the glorious battle Boston College staged against Holy Cross in the Harvard Stadium, Head Coach Joe McKenney deserves to be ranked with the leading football mentors of the country.

From the start of the season, it was very evident that Holy Cross possessed far more class, as regards football material, than Boston College. No one realized this condition better than Joe McKenney.

Capt. John J. McEwan had the array of not only star but veteran talent. In Capt. Phil O'Connell, Holy Cross was represented by the best quarterback in the East. Also, Capt. Phil had no equal as a passer and despite his lack of weight was a powerful ball carrier and a heavy kicker.

Boston College possessed no star within many degrees of the magnitude of O'Connell. And Capt. O'Connell was not the only consideration here who outshined any player Boston College could offer. With the exception of Capt. Joe Kelly and Pat Cavanaugh there was Marty Murray, Don Kelly, Les Griffin, Tony Rovinski and Bob Donovan.

McKenney Kept Line Candidates on Edge

There is nothing more tedious than line play, and it requires careful study on the part of a coach to keep linemen bearing down during the entire season. And this is especially true of seniors, who have been regulars during a previous year.

Capt. Joe McKenney made the Boston College line by refraining from allowing any heroism to creep in. With the exception of Harry Downes, there was not a lineman who was able to establish enough of a claim on any position to warrant a letdown. It was very unfortunate that Capt. Joe Kelly was forced through injury to retire from the game. The R. C. leader had shared the defensive honors with Harry Downes, and his loss was a blow to the Jagged's chance of retaining their six-point lead. O'Connell's run to victory was down the flank which Kelly was forced to vacate. The Holy Cross captain had not feared Kelly during the entire afternoon, and as Downes was taking care of him on the opposite flank, the Holy Cross leader was having a tough afternoon trying to shake himself free for any worthwhile advance.

Eagles Caused H. C. Followers to Worry

Boston College was on the short end of all bets going into the game, but after stopping Holy Cross in the first quarter, the boys who had but long odds on Holy Cross to win began to question their judgment.

And the Eagle frontman came within a couple of minutes of being responsible for the biggest upset of the season, a Boston College victory over the high powered highly touted Holy Cross eleven which was erroneously rated as touchdowns better.

Capt. Joe McKenney, Bill O'Brien, by Bill O'Brien and Bill Keeler have worked to develop a team worthy of representing Boston College. They were not handed a bunch of stars to mold into a machine, but were forced to take the material at hand and develop a winning combination. And, they did just that, despite the fact that Boston College lost to Holy Cross. If any team was ever entitled to bask in the glory of a moral victory, it is Capt. Joe McKenney's 1931 Eagles. May Joe McKenney all ways have the type of ability that represented Boston College this season.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
Published daily except Sundays, Wednesdays, and legal holidays. Office: 45 Summer St., Boston, Mass. Entered as second-class matter, May 2, 1879. Postpaid at special rate of $3.00 per year in advance. Single copies 10 cents. Subscriptions outside U. S. $4.00 per year in advance. Entered as second-class matter, May 2, 1879. Postpaid at special rate of $3.00 per year in advance. Single copies 10 cents. Subscriptions outside U. S. $4.00 per year in advance.

Hockey Standings

National League
Team	W	L	T	Pts	For	Agst	Goal	Diff	Record
Montreal	11	1	1	23	48	28	11	10	11-1-1
Toronto	10	2	1	21	45	30	10	10	10-2-1
Ottawa	9	3	1	19	40	35	9	10	9-3-1
Quebec	8	4	1	17	38	35	8	10	8-4-1
Winnipeg	7	5	1	15	35	38	7	10	7-5-1
Calgary	6	6	1	13	32	40	6	10	6-6-1
Edmonton	5	7	1	11	30	45	5	10	5-7-1
Vancouver	4	8	1	9	28	50	4	10	4-8-1
Seattle	3	9	1	7	25	55	3	10	3-9-1
Pacific Coast	2	10	1	5	20	60	2	10	2-10-1

Canam League

Team	W	L	T	Pts	For	Agst	Goal	Diff	Record
Montreal	11	1	1	23	48	28	11	10	11-1-1
Toronto	10	2	1	21	45	30	10	10	10-2-1
Ottawa	9	3	1	19	40	35	9	10	9-3-1
Quebec	8	4	1	17	38	35	8	10	8-4-1
Winnipeg	7	5	1	15	35	38	7	10	7-5-1
Calgary	6	6	1	13	32	40	6	10	6-6-1
Edmonton	5	7	1	11	30	45	5	10	5-7-1
Vancouver	4	8	1	9	28	50	4	10	4-8-1
Seattle	3	9	1	7	25	55	3	10	3-9-1
Pacific Coast	2	10	1	5	20	60	2	10	2-10-1

Charge Accounts Gladly Opened

Purchases Charged in November Payable in January!

HAVERHILL IN VICTORY, 14-0

Haverhill, Nov. 27.—Haverhill, without Capt. Ed. Bakano, spoiled Manchester Central high here, 14 to 0.

With the start of the second period Haverhill marched from its own 40-yard line and crossed the goal line. Greenberg's rushing was great. He added the extra point.

Greenberg took Capt. Bakano's place in the lineup.

A brilliant thyroid run by Greenberg in the final quarter put Haverhill in scoring position.

Jack Young to Face Peres on Sunday

Among the stars who will play for the Quincy Trojans which meet Peres Marquette Sunday at Lincoln Park, are Tiger Jack Young.

Tiger Jack is a familiar figure on the South Shore, where he first gained distinction playing for Quincy high. He played there three seasons and later attended Thayer Academy.

Young was regarded as a strong member of the Maroon and Gold forward line during his years as an undergraduate.

He was a star on Bill Cullen's freshman team, later going up to the varsity where he outdistanced Capt. Warren Morris.

Following his graduation from R. C. Young went into the professional wrestling game.

BOOTH OUT OF TIGER GAME

New Haven, Ct., Nov. 27 (U.S.)—Alba Booth, Yale's little boy hero, spent Thanksgiving in bed at the Yale College infirmary.

He had no turkey or anything else of a solid nature. His temperature was normal today.

This was subject enough for Thanksgiving, according to his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Booth, senior.

Symptoms of bronchitis disappeared with his high temperature. He is very weak, and it is not likely he will see the Yale Princeton football game Saturday.

First Corps Team Loses to Battery A

Battery A defeated the First Corps Cadets in the 25th annual meeting, 13 to 0, at Tech Field, Cambridge.

William "Hap" Morris, captain of Battery A team, was the star of the game. Walter Brown of Waltham, Eddie Barron of Roulletdale and George H. Rivers also played well for the victors.

Gene Daniels and Bob Harper were bulwarks of the Battery A line.

Battery A's first score was made in the second period.

Morris started the Battery march and finally scored.

BROCKTON IS 20-0 WINNER

A fast Brockton eleven crushed Waltham high, 20 to 0, before 3000 on the Waltham field.

Brockton found the Waltham line stubborn, but in the fourth period the home team loosened up.

Bradford Hillard was the flank in the Brockton attack.

Brockton scored early when Rice recovered a Waltham fumble on the latter's 35-yard line. On the first play Hillard swept through for the touchdown.

In the third quarter Brockton took possession on the Waltham 37-yard line. Hillard and Rice carried the pigskin in Waltham's one-yard line and first line failed.

MALDEN BEATS MEDFORD

Malden high football team ended a great season under Warren M. Quirk, by beating Medford high, 13 to 2, at the Medford high field. It was the third successive win for the team over its rival.

Malden's 16 first downs to six for Medford were impressive. Dan Pashore, Larry Mahoney, Al Karwin and Lloyd Tupper for Malden and Frank Mashey of Medford, starred.

Mashey was taken out of the game in the fourth quarter after being knocked out.

To Make Our Factory Hum---To Provide Work for Our 579 Workers---That's Why!

Come in and Take Away $79,500 Worth of Morse Nationally Famous Clothing for $46,300

4 P. SUITS - BLUE SUITS

OVERCOATS

and TUXEDOS

$24.50

For the First Time

Morse Tuxedos at $24.50. Prepare for the holidays or buy some one a real gift...

For the First Time

3 and 4 P. Blue Suits of this Morse high quality for $24.50...

For the First Time

in many years — with one exception—Morse Suits with 2 pairs of trousers at $24.50...

*within the past fifteen or twenty years!

We're making a clean breast of things — we want more business. The weather's been terrible for selling overcoats, and not much better for suits. We're out to stir up some action — and any man who doesn't act quick when an opportunity like this breaks deserves to be depressed. Every one of these garments is new, fresh, smart and of the high quality that's kept Morse's in the limelight for nearly 80 years.

Come down and see for yourself. We are deliberately omitting comparative prices — you know Morse values and the kind of clothes we sell!

Not one garment made special for this sale — these two thousand suits and overcoats are standard Morse quality made for this Fall's selling.

Youths' 4-Pc. Suits and Overcoats Usually $20 $14.50
Browns, greys, oxfords.
Sizes 15-20.

Morse Affiliated Stores Join in This Great Event!

- Nichols & Morse Haverhill, Mass.
- The Wardrobe Framingham, Mass.
- J. Johnson & Son Waterbury, Conn.
- C. M. Floyd Company Manchester, N. H.
- Medling's, Inc. Woonsocket, R. I.
- Wolfe Brothers Providence, R. I.
- Oscar's Clothes Shop Pawtucket, R. I.

At the stores listed you can find the same high quality clothing at the same remarkable low price. We've made it a New England-wide event!

Men's New Fall Felt Hats Usually $5
$3.45
Browns and Greys All sizes.

Leopold Morse Co

UPTOWN
45 Summer St.
Open Saturday Till 8 P. M.

DOWNTOWN
119 Wash'ton St.
Open Saturday Till 8 P. M.

Wednesday's sales, 1,500,000
Week end, 3,000,000
Year ago, 1,850,000

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

1931 to date, $21,971,954
1930 to date, 749,420,924
1929 to date, 1,641,129,320

UP: CARPERS ARE POWER

New York, Nov. 27.—A number of the metal shapers who are to show moderate activity in the metal trading today on the New York Stock Exchange, announced the Belgian producers of copper had agreed to cut output of that metal to maintain prices.

The rest of the market was generally over, with the price of copper again bearing the brunt of selling.

MOIST CHARGE LOWER
Most shares continued the downward trend of recent sessions, with the bulk of selling seen in the first period.

By far the brightest news of the day was the London report that Belgian copper producers had decided to accept a 10 per cent cut in output of that metal. This was now ready to stem the outflow of that metal from African mines. Copper shares, however, were firm.

American Smelting soon ran up over 2 points in the early afternoon and held that gain until the market entered the later period trading. Kennecott and Porto de Penco were both up a point or more. Alameda was fractionally higher.

Railroad stocks were subjected to heaviest selling, with all active shares sagging again. The price of low levels. Losses of 2 to 5 points, among others, were suffered by Union Pacific, Great Northern, Illinois Central, and Chicago Northwestern preferred.

United States Steel broke through 50 and closed at 51. The price was 3 points and American Gas was 3 points lower.

American Telephone, Public Service, Allied Chemical, American Can and American Paper were up 1/2 to 3 points. Auburn gained 3 points.

STEEL TRADE WATCHED.
Steel trade reports are commanding more attention, and the price of steel has been a little slower than last week. The price of steel is expected to be lower than last week. The price of steel is expected to be lower than last week.

There is considered some possibility, however, that the price of steel may be a little slower than last week. The price of steel is expected to be lower than last week.

Works plan to increase operations about mid-December and in measure this is expected to offer a stimulus to other lines.

Railroad earnings for October continued to reflect the falling off in demand for the first 10 months of the year. Combined earnings for the group showed a decrease of 10 per cent compared with October last year. Relatively, a decrease of 10 per cent compared with October last year.

When combined was expressed in speculative quarters over France. The Premier's statement, that France was largely dependent on the coal consumption both British and American banks, was directly opposed to such a program and American banks, in Germany, have been able to make repayments in the past.

BETTER STEEL FOR RAILROADS

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 27 (INS).—Increasing signs of a continued upswing in the steel industry were noted here today with the announcement by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation that the company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month.

The Bethlehem Steel Corporation, which is the largest steel producer in the United States, announced that it had decided to increase its output of steel to 1,000,000 tons a month.

The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month. The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month.

The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month. The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month.

The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month. The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month.

The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month. The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month.

The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month. The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month.

The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month. The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month.

The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month. The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month.

The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month. The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month.

The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month. The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month.

The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month. The company's output of steel would be increased to 1,000,000 tons a month.

Grains Are Lower in Chicago Market

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Grains were lower today, with wheat and corn leading the decline. The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower.

The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower. The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower.

The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower. The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower.

The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower. The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower.

The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower. The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower.

The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower. The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower.

The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower. The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower.

The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower. The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower.

The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower. The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower.

The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower. The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower.

The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower. The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower.

The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower. The price of wheat was 1/2 cent lower, and the price of corn was 1/4 cent lower.

Form Johnstown Rail Committee

A committee to study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city, was formed today. The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city.

The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city. The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city.

The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city. The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city.

The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city. The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city.

The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city. The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city.

The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city. The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city.

The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city. The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city.

The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city. The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city.

The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city. The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city.

The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city. The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city.

The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city. The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city.

The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city. The committee will study the rate of holders of Johnstown Passenger Railway, which is the largest railroad in the city.

Activity-Moderate With Bonds Easy

New York, Nov. 27.—The market today picked up in the morning, with bonds leading the advance. The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher.

The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher. The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher.

The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher. The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher.

The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher. The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher.

The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher. The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher.

The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher. The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher.

The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher. The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher.

The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher. The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher.

The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher. The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher.

The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher. The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher.

The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher. The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher.

The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher. The price of bonds was 1/2 cent higher, and the price of stocks was 1/4 cent higher.

Outlet Plans Stock Change

New York, Nov. 27.—The Outlook Co. has notified the stockholders of the company that it has decided to change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation.

The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation.

The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation.

The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation.

The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation.

The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation.

The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation.

The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation.

The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation.

The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation.

The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation.

The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation. The company will change its name to the Outlook Corporation.

Canada Dry Profit for Year A $1,685,614

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—Canada Dry Ginger Ale today reported for the year ended September 30 net income of $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share, compared with $1,022,225, or 84 cents a share, for the year ended September 30, 1930.

The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share. The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share.

The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share. The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share.

The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share. The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share.

The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share. The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share.

The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share. The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share.

The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share. The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share.

The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share. The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share.

The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share. The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share.

The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share. The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share.

The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share. The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share.

The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share. The company's net income for the year ended September 30, 1931, was $1,685,614, or $1.33 a share.

THIMBLE THEATER Starring POPEYE

Now Showing—"Another Dry Issue"

Tomorrow—"Water Was Made to Drink"

By Segar

KRAZY KAT

The Law of Gravitation

COOK-COOS

By TED COOK
Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American

BRINGING UP FATHER

Jiggs Takes to the High Spots

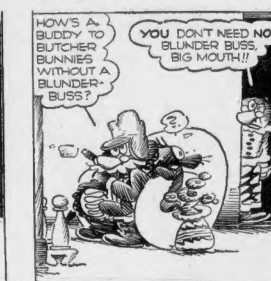

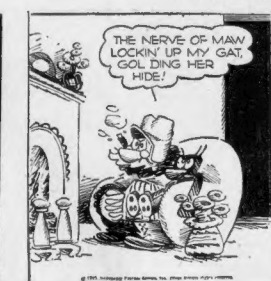

By George McManus

POLLY AND HER PALS

Practice Would Make Him Perfect

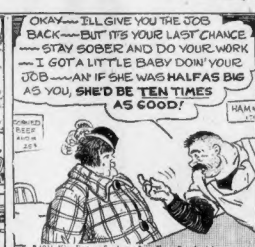

By Cliff Sterrett

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

A Large Obstacle

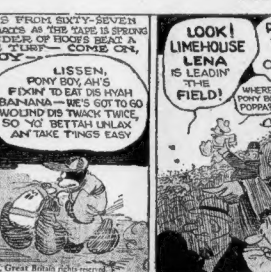

By Darrell McClure

BARNEY GOOGLE

Neck and Neck

By De Beck

TIM TYLER'S FLYING LUCK

A Woman in the Case

By Lym Young

Q. AND A. DEPARTMENT

Q. Dear Aunt Bella—I'm just a young girl trying to get along in the world and would like to know what you consider the best beauty aid?
A. (Humility's Friend) Bella.
Q. Am—Nothing beats a mild-mannered optimist who's been successful in a business way.
A. (Humility's Friend) Bella.
Q. And Gandhi is never left in a quandary when his last pair of socks is lost in the laundry.
—W. M. W.

Good seats up front.

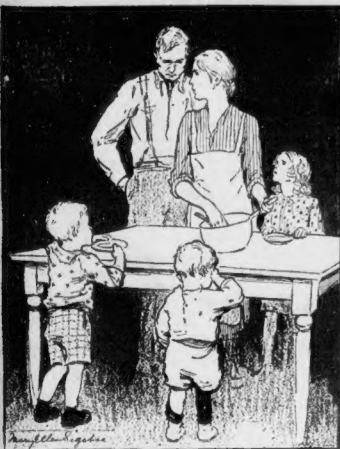

Be sure your sin will find you out Numbers XXXII, 23.

This text is suggested by the Rev. John D. Rogers, field secretary, Methodist Church, New England. The next text will be suggested by Evangelist George LaMass, summer preacher, Nantucket.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1931

You Can Prevent This

The American's Basket Fund

NO MORE

The Boston Evening American Christmas Basket Fund is again a fact.

You may contribute to it TODAY, or any day up to Christmas.

Do it TODAY.

He who gives quickly gives twice. Some 20,000 men, women and children received the beautiful gift of the Christmas Basket last year, or were helped out of their urgent difficulties by the Boston Evening American Helping Hand.

The Christmas Basket is the symbol of good cheer. It is the sign of relief. It is the vehicle of man's kindness to man. It is the harbinger of happiness. It dispels gloom. It chases privation. It relieves want. It brings practical joy to homes which should be gladdened in the holiday season of peace on earth and goodwill. Laden with chicken or turkey and foodstuffs for all the family, it frequently contains also serviceable gifts and clothing for the children.

Their glad smiles of surprise when this basket of happiness enters their homes would repay you a thousandfold. It is more blessed to give than to receive.

This is YOUR Christmas Basket. You supply the gift out of your generous impulse. Clergymen, teachers, philanthropists and other kindly disposed people supply the list of the needy and verify their worthiness. The Boston Evening American is the medium which assembles the facts, collects and receives the gifts whether they be of money or of materials and assumes the task of delivering YOUR gift to the family homes.

For many years this beneficent work has gone on. Its great worth and merit are known to every corner of New England. It is an institution. The need this year is greater than in many years. The appeal is growing in volume. Respond to it. Come on in. Let your generosity be measured only by your capacity. You will derive the joy that comes from spontaneous giving to those who should have your help. You will never miss it. There is no joy greater than the knowledge of having done a thing worth doing.

Send in the names of needy families you know of. Be sure to give the number of children. If you wish to join in the good work beyond that, select a family from the daily lists printed in the Boston Evening American, or send in a contribution. A call to the Christmas Basket Fund Editor, Liberty 4000, will give you the answers to any of your questions.

By Edgar A. Guest

Just Folks

Self-Examination

So fair this past has been, now it has gone I strangely think it vain to journey on. It seems to me, becoming pleasures. There is no future splendor to be known. And yet time was these last days I deplore. Compared the future that I labored for. I viewed the world without too many fears. Nor was I then afraid to trust the years. I faced tomorrow, hoping it would be a day that might bring happiness to me. Gave all those joys over which I grieve I now. Then shall I fear to face the future now? Once I had faith in every time of doubt. Why then do I walk dolefully about. Discouraged by the cold wind and the rain. Afraid this sun will never shine again?

Copyright, 1931, Edgar A. Guest.

'Rich Man, Poor Man'

By NELSON HARDING

Listen, World!

By Elsie Robinson

Saturday Night Party

GOING ON a party this Saturday night, of course?

Where? Belle's or Harry's? Or perhaps down to the Browns?

Doesn't much matter. A party's a party, wherever you pull it.

Saturday night—good old Saturday night! What a grand institution it is! What a great institution it is!

It brings practical joy to homes which should be gladdened in the holiday season of peace on earth and goodwill. Laden with chicken or turkey and foodstuffs for all the family, it frequently contains also serviceable gifts and clothing for the children.

Their glad smiles of surprise when this basket of happiness enters their homes would repay you a thousandfold. It is more blessed to give than to receive.

This is YOUR Christmas Basket. You supply the gift out of your generous impulse. Clergymen, teachers, philanthropists and other kindly disposed people supply the list of the needy and verify their worthiness.

The Boston Evening American is the medium which assembles the facts, collects and receives the gifts whether they be of money or of materials and assumes the task of delivering YOUR gift to the family homes.

For many years this beneficent work has gone on. Its great worth and merit are known to every corner of New England. It is an institution. The need this year is greater than in many years. The appeal is growing in volume. Respond to it. Come on in. Let your generosity be measured only by your capacity. You will derive the joy that comes from spontaneous giving to those who should have your help. You will never miss it. There is no joy greater than the knowledge of having done a thing worth doing.

Send in the names of needy families you know of. Be sure to give the number of children. If you wish to join in the good work beyond that, select a family from the daily lists printed in the Boston Evening American, or send in a contribution. A call to the Christmas Basket Fund Editor, Liberty 4000, will give you the answers to any of your questions.

Thoughts While Strolling

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Thoughts while strolling: I never remember which is Jane's Beecher and which is Violet Heming. Dudley Malone is now Mayor Walker's theater companion. Ed Wynne is packing them in and his play hasn't a single dirty line. The Duke of the Roaring Forties, Dinty Moore's son William, Paul Block, an Elmira, N. Y., boy who made good in the city. They say Peter Arno took the flop of his show very hard. Charles Dillingham sits in the front row gallery at his opera nights. George Kaufman paces up and down out front. George White sits in the box office. Jed Harris—but who cares?

Now the wags are suggesting that the Cantor-Jessie combination merge with Goldman-Sachs. No Broadway since Raymond Hitchcock has had the courage to wear a gray derby. And there are liars who still tell of being on the loose with Hickey. Although he never took a drink or smoked in his life.

That fiery red head with vivid green tie always at the Palace Sunday nights, Ray Goetz passes Irene Borden with a hurried bat. Barney Gallant is his own master of ceremony in the night club depression. When I see Charles Hanson Towne I always think of Budweiser.

The luncheon near the Metropolitan where Don Byrne and Joyce Kilmer used to foregather. Now a gaudy all-night show shop. That shrewd, megalomaniac, back-bowed actor near the Automat. The tang of backwash and sweat-soaked, sporty youth, alert and sleek of the parlor tricksters. Les Shubert and P. Greener. Tight-mouthed, sporty youth, alert for broad effects, who cluster about Lindy and the honey-lipped girls who join them for coffee. The old Hammarstein theater seems faded. Bullseye sign in front of deserted cabarets. Earl Carroll's shadow—"The Count".

Moonday vignette: In West 13th street, a red-shirted laborer digging with his pick. The whistle blows. His wife arrives with lunch and, perched on a nearby rock, they enjoy the meal together.

The professional hostess has gone out. Less than 10 years ago she was as fixed on the entertainment menu of the town as the hat check girl. Belle St. Martin sang and flattered from table to table at Rector's, Grace Fields was at the Claridge. Mae Murray at Sans Souci, Jose Sawyer at Montmartre, Justine Johnson at the Little Club, Sophie Tucker at Reisenweber's, Margaret Hawkesworth at the old Sitty Club and Veronica at Delmonico's. All antedated Texas Guinan, who perhaps became the most famous during her era.

In those days cabarets were packed with diverse personalities and hostessing was a bright calling. The most expert had "followers". Even family hotels, such as the uptown Maltese, Ansonia, Belvedere and others, employed them. It was their job to mingle from table to table, call guests by name and make them feel vastly important. Salaries ranged from $75 to $150 a week, and as the result of such contacts many went on to successful stage careers or equally successful marriages.

During that hostess era Ted Lewis, with battered top hat, was inquiring if "everybody's happy" at mirrored Rector's, Irene Castle and Vernon were receiving $200 a week and giving dancing lessons for $20 each. A boy, got $20 and cakes in a street table photo. And Sophie Lyman, gloomily billed as "the tubercular terror", crooned in a dingy back of a plumbing shop on Houston street. The goal of every girl was to be a hostess. It was the Midnight Frolic on the New Amsterdam Roof.

The smart night crowd of that era would be found in uptown black and white room of that Bantustan's at sunup. "Diamond Jim" was the most illustrious Broadwayite.

From a musical journal: "At his piano, the young Russian frequently at the stool, pulls nervously at his collar. Bigger his right foot and flirts gleefully finger through his long hair. A newswoman, he has the Midnight Frolic on the New Amsterdam Roof.

The smart night crowd of that era would be found in uptown black and white room of that Bantustan's at sunup. "Diamond Jim" was the most illustrious Broadwayite.

From a musical journal: "At his piano, the young Russian frequently at the stool, pulls nervously at his collar. Bigger his right foot and flirts gleefully finger through his long hair. A newswoman, he has the Midnight Frolic on the New Amsterdam Roof.

The smart night crowd of that era would be found in uptown black and white room of that Bantustan's at sunup. "Diamond Jim" was the most illustrious Broadwayite.

From a musical journal: "At his piano, the young Russian frequently at the stool, pulls nervously at his collar. Bigger his right foot and flirts gleefully finger through his long hair. A newswoman, he has the Midnight Frolic on the New Amsterdam Roof.

The smart night crowd of that era would be found in uptown black and white room of that Bantustan's at sunup. "Diamond Jim" was the most illustrious Broadwayite.

From a musical journal: "At his piano, the young Russian frequently at the stool, pulls nervously at his collar. Bigger his right foot and flirts gleefully finger through his long hair. A newswoman, he has the Midnight Frolic on the New Amsterdam Roof.

The smart night crowd of that era would be found in uptown black and white room of that Bantustan's at sunup. "Diamond Jim" was the most illustrious Broadwayite.

From a musical journal: "At his piano, the young Russian frequently at the stool, pulls nervously at his collar. Bigger his right foot and flirts gleefully finger through his long hair. A newswoman, he has the Midnight Frolic on the New Amsterdam Roof.

The smart night crowd of that era would be found in uptown black and white room of that Bantustan's at sunup. "Diamond Jim" was the most illustrious Broadwayite.

From a musical journal: "At his piano, the young Russian frequently at the stool, pulls nervously at his collar. Bigger his right foot and flirts gleefully finger through his long hair. A newswoman, he has the Midnight Frolic on the New Amsterdam Roof.

McIntyre

New York Day by Day

Thoughts While Strolling

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Thoughts while strolling: I never remember which is Jane's Beecher and which is Violet Heming. Dudley Malone is now Mayor Walker's theater companion. Ed Wynne is packing them in and his play hasn't a single dirty line. The Duke of the Roaring Forties, Dinty Moore's son William, Paul Block, an Elmira, N. Y., boy who made good in the city. They say Peter Arno took the flop of his show very hard. Charles Dillingham sits in the front row gallery at his opera nights. George Kaufman paces up and down out front. George White sits in the box office. Jed Harris—but who cares?

Now the wags are suggesting that the Cantor-Jessie combination merge with Goldman-Sachs. No Broadway since Raymond Hitchcock has had the courage to wear a gray derby. And there are liars who still tell of being on the loose with Hickey. Although he never took a drink or smoked in his life.

That fiery red head with vivid green tie always at the Palace Sunday nights, Ray Goetz passes Irene Borden with a hurried bat. Barney Gallant is his own master of ceremony in the night club depression. When I see Charles Hanson Towne I always think of Budweiser.

The luncheon near the Metropolitan where Don Byrne and Joyce Kilmer used to foregather. Now a gaudy all-night show shop. That shrewd, megalomaniac, back-bowed actor near the Automat. The tang of backwash and sweat-soaked, sporty youth, alert and sleek of the parlor tricksters. Les Shubert and P. Greener. Tight-mouthed, sporty youth, alert for broad effects, who cluster about Lindy and the honey-lipped girls who join them for coffee. The old Hammarstein theater seems faded. Bullseye sign in front of deserted cabarets. Earl Carroll's shadow—"The Count".

Moonday vignette: In West 13th street, a red-shirted laborer digging with his pick. The whistle blows. His wife arrives with lunch and, perched on a nearby rock, they enjoy the meal together.

The professional hostess has gone out. Less than 10 years ago she was as fixed on the entertainment menu of the town as the hat check girl. Belle St. Martin sang and flattered from table to table at Rector's, Grace Fields was at the Claridge. Mae Murray at Sans Souci, Jose Sawyer at Montmartre, Justine Johnson at the Little Club, Sophie Tucker at Reisenweber's, Margaret Hawkesworth at the old Sitty Club and Veronica at Delmonico's. All antedated Texas Guinan, who perhaps became the most famous during her era.

In those days cabarets were packed with diverse personalities and hostessing was a bright calling. The most expert had "followers". Even family hotels, such as the uptown Maltese, Ansonia, Belvedere and others, employed them. It was their job to mingle from table to table, call guests by name and make them feel vastly important. Salaries ranged from $75 to $150 a week, and as the result of such contacts many went on to successful stage careers or equally successful marriages.

During that hostess era Ted Lewis, with battered top hat, was inquiring if "everybody's happy" at mirrored Rector's, Irene Castle and Vernon were receiving $200 a week and giving dancing lessons for $20 each. A boy, got $20 and cakes in a street table photo. And Sophie Lyman, gloomily billed as "the tubercular terror", crooned in a dingy back of a plumbing shop on Houston street. The goal of every girl was to be a hostess. It was the Midnight Frolic on the New Amsterdam Roof.

The smart night crowd of that era would be found in uptown black and white room of that Bantustan's at sunup. "Diamond Jim" was the most illustrious Broadwayite.

From a musical journal: "At his piano, the young Russian frequently at the stool, pulls nervously at his collar. Bigger his right foot and flirts gleefully finger through his long hair. A newswoman, he has the Midnight Frolic on the New Amsterdam Roof.

The smart night crowd of that era would be found in uptown black and white room of that Bantustan's at sunup. "Diamond Jim" was the most illustrious Broadwayite.

From a musical journal: "At his piano, the young Russian frequently at the stool, pulls nervously at his collar. Bigger his right foot and flirts gleefully finger through his long hair. A newswoman, he has the Midnight Frolic on the New Amsterdam Roof.

The smart night crowd of that era would be found in uptown black and white room of that Bantustan's at sunup. "Diamond Jim" was the most illustrious Broadwayite.

From a musical journal: "At his piano, the young Russian frequently at the stool, pulls nervously at his collar. Bigger his right foot and flirts gleefully finger through his long hair. A newswoman, he has the Midnight Frolic on the New Amsterdam Roof.

The smart night crowd of that era would be found in uptown black and white room of that Bantustan's at sunup. "Diamond Jim" was the most illustrious Broadwayite.

From a musical journal: "At his piano, the young Russian frequently at the stool, pulls nervously at his collar. Bigger his right foot and flirts gleefully finger through his long hair. A newswoman, he has the Midnight Frolic on the New Amsterdam Roof.

The smart night crowd of that era would be found in uptown black and white room of that Bantustan's at sunup. "Diamond Jim" was the most illustrious Broadwayite.

From a musical journal: "At his piano, the young Russian frequently at the stool, pulls nervously at his collar. Bigger his right foot and flirts gleefully finger through his long hair. A newswoman, he has the Midnight Frolic on the New Amsterdam Roof.

The smart night crowd of that era would be found in uptown black and white room of that Bantustan's at sunup. "Diamond Jim" was the most illustrious Broadwayite.

From a musical journal: "At his piano, the young Russian frequently at the stool, pulls nervously at his collar. Bigger his right foot and flirts gleefully finger through his long hair. A newswoman, he has the Midnight Frolic on the New Amsterdam Roof.

The Tax Strategy of the Administration

By Claude G. Bowers

WHEN SENATOR WATSON, who is not always so liberal, announced the other day that the Republicans in the Senate would accept any reasonable tax plan the Democrats may propose, the strategy of this party was revealed. It is usually dangerous thing for any party to increase taxes at the beginning of a Presidential campaign. That is the reason the Administration and its spokesmen in Congress passionately opposed a tax revision at this juncture as long as possible. It was the hope that the fatal day of paying the piper could be postponed until after the election. Meanwhile the deficit in the Treasury increased by day until now we face the certainty of a $2,000,000,000 deficit, and possibly larger. That is a condition that cannot be ignored. The Administration is forced to the admission that under its "business administration" and because of its legislation and policies it is not paying expenses. There is an Administration deficit of two billions and the taxpayers now must pay the piper.

Placing the Responsibility

That necessity is giving serious concern to the Administration and its Congressional leaders. They are afraid of the effect on the people who must go deeper into their pockets and, because the Democrats have captured the House by a very narrow margin, the strategy is to place the responsibility for the tax increase upon the Democrats.

The deficit is an Administration deficit.

It has piled up to two billion dollars with every branch of the Government in possession of the Administration party.

The enormous loss in foreign trade and the resulting loss in customs revenue is due in a measure to the tariff that the Administration forced through over the protest of the Democrats and a number of Republicans.

The enormous loss in revenue from income and corporation taxes is due in large measure to the bursting of the stock market bubble, which over the protest of Senator Glass, was inflated by the Administration until it burst.

The responsibility for the deficit on the Administration; and where the responsibility for the deficit is, there lies the responsibility for the tax increase.

The Administration Demands the Increase

Since the responsibility is on the Administration, and it is the President, who, in his message, is to report on the "state of the Union," it is proper that the Democrats, as such, withhold their plan to meet the situation for which they are not responsible until Mr. Hoover has set the situation out and made his own recommendations to the people as to how to meet the deficit.

That, too, is the duty and responsibility of the Administration.

When it has proposed the means it would adopt to raise the money from the pockets of the people to meet the two billion-dollar deficit with the Government in all its branches in control of the Administration, the Democrats may accept the plan proposed or offer a substitute.

But it is not the Democrats, even now in possession of the House only, and by a narrow margin, who are demanding an increasing of the taxation burdens of the people—it is the Administration.

And the Administration is demanding it because its short-sighted policies are responsible for the deficit that must be met.

Senator Watson is much too clever, and the Democrats will be wary about the "Greeks" hearing gifts."

Give the Administration a Chance

It would certainly be a blunder for the Democrats to enter into an agreement with the Administration party on taxation before the submission of the Administration's program to meet the Administration's deficit. When Congress convenes the people who will have to pay the piper will expect a full debate on the reasons for the deficit.

Why is it that an Administration that was going to "eliminate poverty" because the previous Administration had placed "business on the basis of permanent prosperity" says a $2,000,000,000 deficit in the lap of a Democratic House within three years of its inauguration?

To what extent is the Administration responsible for this deficit?

What Administration policies or failures to act have contributed to this condition?

Little Time to Spare for Home Problems

It would be ungracious, too, for the Democrats to deprive the Administration of the opportunity to show what it can do, or has to offer, for the solution of our domestic problems. From the hour Congress adjourned last March, the Administration has been concentrating on an effort to relieve distress in Europe.

The Secretary of State and the Secretary of the Treasury have been busy over there. There has been but little time to spare for home problems; and the American people are as prostrate as the French are prosperous. With the agreements entered into in the secret conferences with European statesmen the American people are but vaguely acquainted, but there is every reason to suspect from the tone of the European press and the character of the propaganda here that a proposal is in the offing to dump the debts of fourteen nations onto the shoulders of the same taxpayers who are about to be called upon to meet the American governmental deficit of two billion dollars.

The responsibility of the Administration is now clear; to place the responsibility for the unprecedented depression in America upon Europe and to pass the responsibility for increasing the taxes here upon the party which does not have the Presidency or the Senate and has the House by a margin of two or three votes.

20,000,000 People Are in Dire Distress

Meanwhile, Dr. Julius Klein, inspired spokesman of the Administration, unabashed by the unvarying failure of his polyantha prophecies, smilingly resumes his place before the microphones with the words: "Like genius, profits these days are not in the air."

And he might have added that wage is a matter of desperation but he is more concerned with profits than with wages.

With costly cheerfulness, he tells of factories running "full force" and to capacity, and of an industry that has "increased its profits by 170 per cent over last year's" days, and that he is confident that the government's own report shows an increase of 2.7 per cent in unemployment this month over last. These exercises in optimism by the Doctor butter no bread and furnish no bread to boot, but they do harm and, worse, cause an unaccounted smile these days, proved they do not interfere with the collection of funds for 7,000,000 breadwinners are still out of work.

For 7,000,000 breadwinners are still out of work.

For 20,000,000 people are in dire distress.

Copyright, 1931

What Do You Know?

1. The Match correctly.
2. The Match correctly.
3. The Match correctly.
4. The Match correctly.
5. The Match correctly.
6. The Match correctly.
7. The Match correctly.

8. Great salmon Ohio.
9. Has the Black Rhode Island.
10. Be on end of New Hampshire.
11. north by Colo.
12. rade.

Answers to today's test:
1. Minnesota. 2. Missouri. 3. Ohio. 4. Rhode Island. 5. Nebraska. 6. North Carolina. 7. New Hampshire. 8. Oregon. 9. South Dakota. 10. New Mexico.

Copyright, 1931, for the Boston Evening American.